Deputies Clear Beaches Of Beer-Drinking Students

Crowds of beer-drinking high school students jammed Marin's western beaches yesterday to celebrate the good weather and the holiday of Lincoln's Birthday.

Thirty-one sheriff's deputies were sent to Stinson and Bolinas beaches to keep order.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson said there was no trouble until drinking began. Twenty-three off-duty deputies were rushed to the beaches, along with eight from the on-duty force. All youths were ordered off at 4 p.m.

"It seemed that truckloads of liquor started showing up and then we had to call for more deputies," Stinson said. "They started pushing each other around as soon as many of them started drinking. It looked as though there might be trouble."

About 1,000 students, mostly from San Rafael, Terra Linda and Redwood high schools, were at Stinson Beach, deputies said. About 300 were at Bolinas.

The potables, mostly beer, began showing up in "what seemed like truck-loads," Stinson said. Investigation was continuing today to determine where the youths got the beer, Stinson said.

Mrs. Gene W. McDaniel of Horseshoe Hill, Bolinas complained today that youths in cars ran her off Panoramic Highway three times yesterday afternoon as she was driving home. Three other cars attempted to run her off, but did not succeed.

"Something has got to be done," Mrs. McDaniel said. She said the youths think it is sport to run cars off the road. They call the game "chicken."

She urged all victims to get the license numbers of the cars involved and report the incidents.

Deputies said one 16-year-old girl who was "dead drunk" was thrown from a car by her "friends" while on the way home. She was not injured, they said.

Seven or eight high school students were given juvenile citations for being drunk. Three others were cited for attempting to steal a case of beer from a truck at a Stinson Beach store.

Stinson said deputies took names of 50 to 60 youths for further questioning in an attempt to find out where the drinks came from.

Robert G. Carlson, supervisor of the Stinson Beach State Park, said he and two others worked four hours today to pick up the trash, which included beer cans, vodka and wine bottles, fruit, sacks, papers—and more beer cans.

He said the trash filled 16 drums of 55-gallon capacity.

Luciano Ercolini, 16, of 17 Vista Way, Fairfax, a student a. Marin Catholic High School, nearly drowned in the surf. Two other youths with surfboards pulled him to safety. The youth was given oxygen, but refused an ambulance, deputies said.

His mother, Mrs. Bruno L. Ercolini, reported her son was alright today.

Carlson said the beach is too dangerous for swimming and has been posted for two weeks to warn of the danger. He said the beach is full of pockets where winter waves have sucked out gravel.

Carlson said serious trouble was prevented yesterday by clearing the beach. "It was starting when the beach was cleared," he said.

Edward F. Colombia, 18, of 24 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, was treated for a broken left foot at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital yesterday. Deputies said he suffered the injury while playing football on the beach.

CITY HALL MIGHT GET U.S. FUNDS

San Rafael Would Get $211,981 For CD Design Changes

Two inches of concrete and some minor design changes may bring San Rafael $211,981.20 in federal money toward construction of its new city hall.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen today said an application for an Office of Civil Defense appropriation in that amount has cleared Santa Rosa and Sacramento offices of the OCD and is now in Washington. Approval from Washington headquarters is expected next week, he said.

The federal participation would be for establishing a disaster center in the new city hall, which is to be built on land adjoining the city library fronting Fifth Avenue between E and C streets. The plan is to convert the public safety portion of the city hall — which will be a semi-basement in the main portion of the structure—into such a headquarters.

WINDOWS OUT

Twelve-inch concrete wall footings would be required instead of the 10-inchc footings previously planned. Windows would be eliminated from that portion of the building. Doors would be arranged so they would not open directly outdoors, to offer protection against blast.

Already planned for the public safety department was a radio-telephone headquarters with direct connections to city and county public safety and public works departments and vehicles. The center could serve as a clearing house and headquarters in case of major disaster.

The application for federal funds is for $14,241.20 for planning and $199,740 for construction, Andersen said.

ADD SLIGHTLY

The necessary changes would add slightly to the cost of the city hall—estimated at $666,400 plus site preparation and landscaping — but "nowhere near $200,000," the city manager reported.

Planning of the city hall by a team of San Rafael architects is being held up awaiting the reply from the OCD in Washington. Felix M. Warburg, one of the architects, said he, with architects Gordon Phillips and Robert W. F. Severin, expect to produce a preliminary sketch of the proposed exterior appearance soon after getting the word on whether the federal funds will be allowed.

Andersen expressed confidence the appropriation will be forthcoming.

TB Cases Are Found At School

Five new cases of tuberculosis — including a student and a janitor in schools of Tamalpais High School District — were reported during January to the Marin County Health Department.

In addition, two former cases which had been arrested became active again.

Discovery of the two cases in the schools was disclosed today by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., which with the county health department and the school district is sponsoring a program of tuberculin skin testing for all students in the Tam High district next month.

One of the cases at the schools was found in a student at Sir Francis Drake High School. The other TB victim was a janitor in the district.

Both are under treatment at Ross General Hospital.

All students in Tamalpais, Redwood and Sir Francis Drake high schools are to be given tuberculin skin tests March 17. School employees are required by state law to have chest X-rays every two years. The case of tuberculosis discovered in the janitor had not been detected the last time he was X-rayed for employment.

Planning for the tuberculin skin tests in schools was started last August, regarded primari-

Suicide Experts Can't Be Pinned Down On Why Bridge So Popular

The Golden Gate Bridge District board's security committee wanted a few tips on how to stop suicides from the bridge. It got more than it bargained for at a meeting this morning.

A half-dozen medical officials from San Francisco launched into long philosophy and theory on suicides in general and would not be pinned down to the bridge itself. Finally Thomas D. Hardcastle, bridge director from Novato, suggested that the board "explore barriers or nets that would be economically feasible."

"He said the medical men had indicated that about 70 per cent of the bridge suicides are salvagable. Therefore, Hardcastle said, some barriers should be erected.

Immediately he was challenged by Dr. William A. Bellamy, chairman of the mental health committee of the San Francisco Medical Society. He said a barrier may save 11 lives a year but some of these will kill themselves elsewhere anyway.

"The beauty of the Golden Gate Bridge is a great asset, perhaps not to the 11 who jump, but to the rest of the citizens," Bellamy said.

Director Dan E. London and Presidetnt Ben K. Lerer both tried to get the medical men to limit their discussions to the bridge itself. London wanted to know if signs such as "Danger, Sharks Below" or "Suicides Prohibited" would do any good.

Some doctors thought that if the newspapers would not publicize suicides at all, the number would be reduced.

Ellis D. Sox, San Francisco director of public health, said the suicide rate in San Francisco is one of the highest in the nation. "I guess we must consider the Golden Gate Bridge an attractive nuisance," he said.

The security committee went on record after the discussion to cooperate with public agencies in continuing studies on suicides.

Gate Span Leaper Grabbed Steel Beam—Saved Life

It is a 260-foot drop from the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge to the bay and only a wide steel beam is between the bridge railing and the water below.

The beam apparently saved the life of James Merriam, 22, of Firebaugh, Fresno County.

Merriam, who was seen by two persons disappearing over the bridge railing shortly after midnight Tuesday, turned up alive yesterday. His father, Jack Merriam, came to San Francisco to get him.

He quoted his son as stating that he had jumped over the bridge railing and grabbed the beam. This was possible, according to California highway patrolmen and bridge authorities, although most persons hitting the beam bounce off into the bay.

Merriam got into a cab driven by Joseph Metroff at a San Francisco bar and asked to be driven to Marin. At the south bridge tower he said he was sick.

Metroff slowed the cab and

'Crazed' Gunman Fires On Homes

Narrowly Misses 2 Women

A black-clad sniper last night terrorized a San Rafael residential street, firing into two homes and missing two women by an estimated six inches.

The same man, described by one victim as "probably a crazed gunman," also was believed to have fired into a third house Sunday night.

NO CLUES

Police today said they had no clues to identify the sniper and had found no motive.

Victims last night were Mrs. Mary Katherine Moore, about 60, of 217 Bayview Street, and Mrs. Caroline Worswick, 78, who lives just across the street at 222 Bayview Street. A sister-in-law of Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Luella Dudley, 83, said her home at 231 Bayview Street was fired upon Sunday night, but that she didn't learn of it until yesterday.

Police said all three incidents involved a .22 caliber gun.

DETAILS TOLD

According to details pieced together from police and the victims, the gunman last night first fired upon the Worswick home. Mrs. Moore said she had gone over to visit Mrs. Worswick about 7:50 p.m. and they were standing in the kitchen, when a shot rang out.

The slug, apparently fired from the street, crashed through a front room window, crossed the dining room, went narrowly past the two women, struck the kitchen sink, ricocheted to the ceiling, then dropped at the women's feet, Mrs. Moore said.

She said the window shade was up and the sniper had a clear view from outside into the lighted kitchen.

Moments later Mrs. Moore's grandson, David Wesley Wiles, 14, who is visiting her, heard footsteps on the porch of the Moore home. He had been in-

Two Nabbed For Motel Robbery

JOHN F. McCARTHY
Seeks fifth state term

Two "Latin type" young men were nabbed by San Anselmo police today 17 minutes after they allegedly robbed the Court San Rafael on Highway 101 of about $165.

In the intervening 17 minutes, the men stole two cars, drove through San Rafael and out the Miracle Mile onto Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo.

NOT IDENTIFIED

The two refused to even give their names at the sheriff's office, where they were taken for questioning. Officers said they would have to attempt identification through fingerprints.

There was no gun in the car, either, sheriff's officers reported.

Two men entered the motel, in unincorporated territory on Puerto Suello Hill, and approached Mrs. Mabel Timmer and her daughter, Anita, who were in the motel office.

EMPTY DRAWER

One of the pair pretended to have a gun concealed under his sweater.

Threatening the two women, they emptied the cash drawer of about $165. Then they stole a car parked outside the motel and headed down the highway, turning down Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael. On Lincoln, they stole a second car, a 1956 Buick, in which they headed out the Miracle Mile.

Mrs. Timmer called the sheriff's office at 12:23 p.m., as soon as the men left, to report the robbery. Word was flashed to all police departments in the county.

HUB CHASE

Patrolman Richard Timmis of the San Anselmo department, on a motorcycle at Redhill and Sequoia avenues, saw the stolen Buick pass. He radioed ahead to Patrolman Robert Alberigi, on watch in a patrol car at the Hub intersection.

The stolen car ran through the Hub, ignoring Alberigi's siren. He and Timmis both roared in pursuit. In the 800 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the stolen car attempted a U-turn and was forced to a stop.

Neither man had a gun on his person when arrested, Officer Timmis said.

McCarthy Runs Again For Senate

State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, Republican minority leader, formally announced today he is seeking his fifth term in the Senate.

"It is with a belief that I have lived up to my commitment and responsibilities to the people of Marin since 1950, that I place my record before the people for a vote of confindence," said McCarthy.

"Marin's transit future presents a challenge that must be met in the near future. I intend to persist in efforts for a Marin Transit District, rapid transit for Marin, a second crossing to San Francisco, and the development of a highway system that will be both functional and will enhance the natural beauty of our county.

"In the past, I have worked to obtain the lands of Forts Barry, Cronkhite, and Baker for park purposes. Our community will be benefitted by the recreational lands which these military installations now occupy. I shall continue those efforts to realize this plan."

McCarthy is vice-chairman

DEFECTION NOT TIED TO TALKS, RUSS SAY

COMBINED UPI & AP

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union said today the defection to the United States of Russian arms expert Yuri Nossenko has nothing to do with the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin said the Nossenko affair is only "a matter of negotiation between Switzerland and the Soviet Union."

"We feel it is the responsibility of the Swiss government," he said.

But Switzerland has sharply rejected the Soviet Union's complaints.

Rene Helg, president of the Geneva cantonal state government, yesterday called the Russian charges "unfounded, unjust and unfriendly." He said the Russians refused to cooperate with Swiss authorities and even hindered the Swiss police investigation.

A vast sigh of relief went up from Western officials who had been worrying that Nossenko's defection might cause Moscow to restore the cold war to the disarmament conference.

Tsarapkin's statement came after the United States offered the Soviet Union a 60-40 deal on transferring nuclear weapons materials to peaceful uses.

Chief U.S. delegate William C. Foster told the conference that the United States wants all production of fissionable materials stopped and is willing to leave it up to Moscow whether the process should be total or piecemeal.

"We would welcome an indication from the Soviet delegation of an approach which they would find acceptable," Foster said.

But Tsarapkin did not reply to the U.S. proposal.

Not a line has been published in the Moscow press or carried on the radio about the defection of Nossenko.

A brief digest of the statement of Tsarapkin assailing the Swiss for letting the man get away, was carried in the English language service of Tass distributed abroad. This is not available for publication in the Soviet Union.

U.S. Cyprus Peace Try Fails; Cease-Fire Follows Killings

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — British paratroopers and armored forces clamped a tense cease-fire on Cyprus today to end two days of savage fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in which an estimated 50 persons were killed. New fighting was feared at any moment as American peace efforts apparently failed.

It was the worst fighting since the outbreak of violence in which about 200 persons were killed during the Christmas season.

Sources in the northern port city of Limassol estimated at least 50 persons — most of them Turkish Cypriots — were killed in fighting.

The fighting, which had calmed down last night, broke out again in the early morning hours and was still going on when U.S. Undersecretary of State George Ball met again with President Makarios.

The meeting appeared to have failed, informed sources said.

The sources said Makarios rejected the new Anglo-American proposals for a NATO peace force to patrol the truce. Instead, they said, he repeated his demand that the crisis be taken to the United Nations Security Council.

Veteran Lawmaker Asserts $275,000 His Life's Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harry R. Sheppard (D-Calif.) acknowledged today that he had deposited $275,000 in cash in eight savings and loan institutions and several banks in the past month.

The money, he said at a news conference, represents the bulk of his life savings which he had kept in a safe deposit box at the National Capital Bank near the Capitol.

The Washington Evening Star reported yesterday that Sheppard had made the deposits, and quoted him as saying he had done so to get his estate in order.

Sheppard, 79-year-old dean of California's congressional delegation, said today he may retire from Congress next January at the end of his 14th two-year term.

Nazi Suspect Kills Self In Cell

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Dr. Werner Heyde, facing trial next week as a Nazi war criminal, committed suicide in his cell at Butzbach Penitentiary, the state prosecutor's office announced today.

Yesterday another defendant in the case, Friedrich Tillman, leaped or fell from the window of a washroom in the eighth floor of an office building in Cologne.

The two were to have gone on trial in Limburg next Tuesday charged with the killing of 70,000 persons of 200,000 executed by the Nazis as mental defectives.

Barry Raps Demos For Engle Action

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, hunting the Republican nomination for president, denounced California Democratic leaders last night for what he called "jumping on" ailing U.S. Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.)

"If I were a Democrat," the Arizonan said, "I would resent the actions of party leaders in trying to keep the senator out of the race."

Goldwater told a news conference he is aware that a Democratic split would help his party's efforts to gain Engle's seat, but he hated to see anyone "jumped on" like Engle.

Goldwater, in answer to a question, said he "frankly doubted" that Gov. Edmund G. Brown could get the Democratic nomination for vice president.

Cause Of College Fire

LOMA LINDA, San Bernardino County (AP) — Loma Linda University officials say a fire that destroyed their million-dollar medical building yesterday apparently was caused by defective electrical wiring.

A charred three-story shell is all that remains of the Edward Risley Hall, a World War II vintage building that housed the university's pharmacology, biochemistry and physiology departments.

No one was injured during the four-hour blaze, although one of the animals kept there for research purposes, an ostrich, died of freight, officials said.

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 10-year-old girl who gave birth to a five-pound, 15-ounce baby by Caesarean section was reported in satisfactory condition today. Attendants at St. Bernard's Hospital, said the baby, a full term girl, was in "fair condition." The child was born yesterday.

A 16-year-old boy, named as the father, has been undergoing psychiatric tests.

Angry Tie Led To Mistrial In Bias Slaying

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The jury in Mississippi's touchiest murder trial was deadlocked at an angry 6-6 when a mistrial was declared, a juror said today.

"It was hell in there," he said, recalling the 11 hours in which 12 men, locked away in a small room, pondered the fate of Byron De La Beckwith.

Beckwith, 43, a militant segregationist from Greenwood, Miss., was accused of murdering a Negro civil rights leader, Medgar Evers, 37, of Jackson, in an effort to suppress integration activities.

FAVORED ACQUITTAL

A juror, who asked that he not be named, said the opening ballot was 10-2 for acquittal. On this point there was some confusion, however.

Another juror agreed with the 10-2 opening ballot. Two others said they thought the opening vote was almost the same as the final one, 20 ballotings later.

All agreed the arguments in the jury room, adjoining the Circuit Court courtroom, had reached the flash point.

'WE GOT MAD'

"We got so mad we would all have to stop talking 15 or 20 minutes and simmer down," one juror said. "It was pretty bad. We knew it would never change."

The jury was seated in glowering silence around the rectangular oaken table when Judge Leon Hendrick sent the bailiff to pound on the door and bring them out for polling.

The mistrial came last Friday. It astonished almost everybody in this segregationist stronghold, including Negro leaders who had predicted a "whitewash."

STILL BACKS OSWALD — For all anyone knows Lee Harvey Oswald was a U.S. intelligence agent, says his mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, in Washington yesterday as she still insisted at a news conference she believed him innocent of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22. (AP Wirephoto)

Oswald Only 'Scapegoat' In Assassination, Mother Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, who apparently failed to sway the Warren commission, set out on her own today to try to prove her slain son innocent of the assassination of John P. Kennedy.

"I still believe Lee Harvey Oswald is innocent," she told newsmen after her final session with the seven-man commission investigating the assassination. "Yes, I'm saying that Lee was not the killer and was set up to take the blame. I believe my son is a scapegoat."

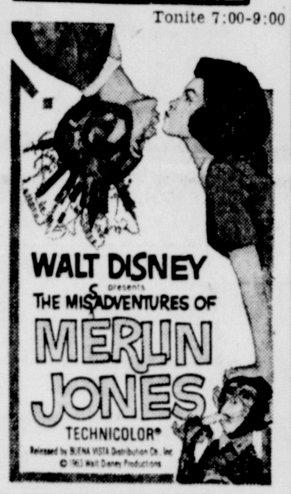

Mrs. Oswald said she believed that her son was an agent of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Although she refused to reveal any of it, she claimed she has "as much circumstantial evidence that Lee was a CIA agent as the Dallas police have that he was a murderer."

"But who can prove who is a CIA agent?" Mrs. Oswald said. "If Lee was an agent he wouldn't have told me and the government isn't going to say so."

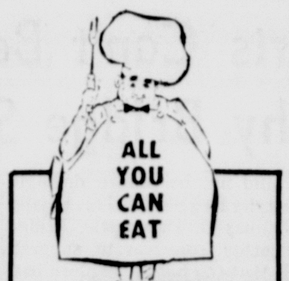

She said she planned to "make public appearances and investigate if it takes another year to find the president's assassin because I believe he is still at large."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who serves as chairman of the panel President Lyndon B. Johnson appointed to investigate the Nov. 22 tragedy, said Mrs. Oswald had not given the commission any information about the assassination "that would change the picture as we have known it. . ."

Planert Enters List For Mill Valley Council

Photographer Philip J. Planert today entered the list of candidates for Mill Valley City Council, taking out namination papers at the city clerk's office.

A new council candidate appeared also in Fairfax, where Stanton L. Berde of 128 Bothin Road took out nomination papers.

In San Anselmo, City Treasurer George W. Prydz took out petition forms for re-election, completed them and returned them all before noon. City Clerk Anita M. Gannon also completed and filed her petition of candidacy for re-election.

Planert is the fourth candidate for three Mill Valley City Council positions which will be at stake April 14. Others are George D. Monardo and Michael Wornum, incumbents, and George Wickham.

Planert, who owns and operates the Philip Planert Photo Studio at 53 Throckmorton Avenue, also his home address, said his platform will be to do something "for the older folks."

"They are being taxed out of their homes in Mill Valley. They have no recreation center," he declared.

The 52-year-old photographer was captain of the Mill Valley police reserve for seven years under former Police Chief James MacGowan.

ly as an educational effort. Its importance is emphasized by the discovery of the two school cases, said Dr. Mary Jo Tonelli, assistant county health officer.

Dr. Tonelli said the interval between diagnosis of the two cases and the March 17 test date is "about ideal" for discovery through the skin tests of anyone who may have contracted tuberculosis from either the student or the janitor.

The tuberculin test, a small injection just under the skin, shows the presence of TB germs. A positive reaction does not necessarily mean disease is present, but means further diagnostic testing is mandatory, Dr. Tonelli said.

Volunteer physicians and nurses will conduct the testing in physical education classes. No student will be tested without a signed parental request. Request forms, together with an explanatory letter, will be mailed to parents later this month.

Students will be instructed concerning the test and TB in physical education classes Feb. 27 and 28. A preparatory workshop for physical education teachers is planned for Feb. 26.

Tuberculin skin tests are to be given all pupils in Sausalito Elementary School District next Monday under a program initiated by the district itself with assistance of the tuberculosis association.

Merriam jumped out. Both Metroff and Carl Cole of 182 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, who was driving behind the cab, saw him disappear over the bridge railing.

Bridge authorities theorized that Merriam climbed from the beam to a catwalk used by painters and then walked off the Marin County end of the bridge.

Five toll collectors kept a close watch on the San Francisco end of the bridge from sunset to sunrise when nobody is allowed to walk on the bridge.

The elder Merriam said his son was despondent over not finding work. He was taken home yesterday by his father.

Sgt. James Dukes of the highway patrol pointed out that Merriam could be charged with climbing on the bridge and failing to pay his taxi fare.

of the important Senate Rules Committee and is a member of Senate committees on transportation, governmental efficiency, finance, natural resources, and business and professions.

He and his wife, Ursula, live in San Rafael with their seven children. He is vice president and general manager of the Robert McCarthy Construction Co.

McCarthy won his first election to the State Senate in 1950 at the age of 26. He succeeded Thomas F. Keating, who was appointed superior court judge.

In 1952, he won re-election, and has been re-elected every four years since then.

Vera Schultz of Mill Valley, former county supervisor, has announced for the Democratic nomination to oppose McCarthy, who is not expected to have opposition within his own party.

Construction on the 103-mile-long Suez Canal began on April 25, 1859, and it was opened 10 years later on Nov. 7, 1869.

SHOOT

structed not to open doors to strangers, and instead peeked out the door's upper glass pane from behind a drawn shade.

He saw a man crouching in the unlighted porch. The man was wearing dark goggles or glasses, a black scarf, black hat, and dark clothing, Mrs. Moore said. He fled rapidly.

Seconds later, Mrs. Moore said, a shot smashed through her bathroom window, embedding in a wall. No one was in the bathroom. Police recovered the slug, also of .22 caliber.

Mrs. Dudley, a widow who resides across a vacant lot from Mrs. Moore, said a shot was fired into her rear sunroom Sunday evening.

The slug, a .22 caliber, embedded in a window sill. No one was in the room at the time of shooting, she said. She said young David Wiles noticed the hole Monday, but did not mention it to her and she was unaware of the incident until yesterday.

She said earlier this week she also observed a rear screen door latch had been unlatched after someone had poked a hole in the screen. She resides alone.

Both Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. Moore said they knew of no one wishing to harm them, and neither could account for the attacks. Mrs. Dudley termed the sniper as "apparently a crazed gunman."

The women said there have been problems with vandals crossing the empty lot between their houses, and with construction of the 90-unit Bayview Manor Apartments project to the east of the Moore residence and behind both homes.

Patrolman Gilbert Freitas, who first investigated the shootings, said the pattern is definitely similar to two separate shootings, apparently with an air pellet gun, reported Sunday and Monday by Alan David Kurtz of 34 Marin Street, less than a block from the three women's homes.

Sunday his wife, walking their dog in the back yard, heard a sound like that of an air gun but found no damage.

Monday, Kurtz told officers, a pellet was fired through his bathroom window, shattering a mirror. Kurtz and his wife were in a front room watching television at the time. The pellet was recovered.

Vilas Recall Petitions Turned In

Petitions seeking the recall of Lagunitas School District Trustee Georgette Vilas were filed at the Marin County Schools office today, 13 days after the move began.

The action was prompted by strong feeling in the community against the school board's 3-to-2 vote to accept the forced resignation of Supt. Clifford L. Frye in December.

Mrs. Vilas of Woodacre was one of the three voting to accept the resignation.

The petitions, circulated by five residents of the San Geronimo Valley, carry 253 signatures. Mrs. Ralph W. Hahn of San Geronimo, whose husband spearheaded the drive, said about 225 signatures were all that were needed to meet the requirement for 20 per cent of the district's registered voters.

Dr. Rudolph S. Kupfer, assistant superintendent of county schools, said the petitions will be referred to the county clerk for verification. If the petitions should prove to be short of the required number, backers of the recall will have a chance to circulate a supplementary petition, Kupfer said.

Mrs. Vilas, on learning of the filing, said she has letters of withdrawal from some signers of the petition which she intends to file with the schools office.

Kupfer said the code does not spell out the procedure for such letters. What action is taken on them will be up to the county clerk and county counsel.

San Rafael Barber Shop Looted:$460

Burglars, who used a nearby ladder to scale an open-topped storage space wall, looted Johnson's Barbar Shop at 877 Fourth Street, San Rafael, of an estimated $460 in barbering materials and a television set, police reported today.

Owner A. C. Johnson of San Francisco said he discovered the break-in at 8:20 a.m. yesterday. Officers said the intruders used the ladder, then forced locks on two doors. The television set, valued at $215, was taken from a card room at the rear of the shop.

Also taken were seven hair clippers.

Irving B. Litchfield, owner of Bermuda Palms Motel, 737 Francisco Boulevard, said $30 worth of beer was taken from a storage room there in another burglary. The theft was discovered yesterday.

'BENEFIT GAME'

Demo Key Women's Style Show Brings Out Curves And Flowers

By WAT TAKESHITA

(Note to the Boss: Covering a fashion show is something new to this reporter. But since we've had some experience reporting fairs, car shows, and sports of all types, the dress show was not entirely foreign. Here, in brief, is what happened.)

Bright colors and flower hats, in addition to the usual curves, will dominate women's fashions this spring, according to a preview presented at Peacock Gap yesterday by a well-balanced team of players from J. Magnin's of San Francisco.

It was a benefit game, for the Democratic Key Women, who are preparing for a different kind of tournament.

The young team manager performed like a veteran, parading a dazzling display of colorful designs that left the audience of 100 gasping with envy.

Her assortment of deliveries ranged from wide curves to sliders (they literally glided over the aisles) and sinkers (only they call it plunging lines).

The team colors ranged from Cardinal red to swimming pool blue. Almost every performer used her head to best advantage, balancing an assorment of helmets, most of them in the form of flowers.

One hat that caught the eye was a black headwear shaped like a mushroom. Several looked like giant peonies.

In addition to the professionals from San Francisco, the manager sent in local talent as pinch-hitters — people like Elaine Guthrie and Mrs. Don Bradley, who performed like veterans.

The rules of the game apparently allow no half-time intermission. The manager kept sending the players, by turns, into the dressing room for a change of uniform. And back they came in "primrose pink", "primped at the neck with aqua blue," knitted dress with striped-candy hat, "peony pink hostess gown," "sun-gold brocade ball gown," and black evening sheath.

Each player displayed fine broken field running, twisting and turning at almost every step, and ending up in front of the head table with a pose similar to the statue of liberty play.

They came at you so fast and furious that when the game had ended, you didn't know what the score was. If there's one adjective that describes the performance, it would be, "Wow!"

Twin Cities Rec Program Fund Sound

The recreation program of the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission will not be affected by withdrawal of $1,700 in funds by the Larkspur School District board, according to commission chairman Albert E. Kogler.

"We have been more or less expecting this," Kogler said. The school board agreed Tuesday night to eliminate the district's contribution of $1,700 to the commission.

In addition to the $1,700, the district pays the commission $1,000 as part of the cost for the commission's taking over the district's after-school recreation program.

The commission and the four Parent-Teacher associations chip in another $1,400 to help run the program. The contributions of the town of Corte Madera and the city of Larkspur have been increased to $6,500 apiece.

Kogler said the increased contributions from the cities "will take up the slack" of the school district funds.

George Washington bathed at Berkeley Springs, in present-day West Virginia, in 1748 and was so pleased he built a cottage nearby.

Director Quits Tam Sanitary District Board

Richard P. Boviard resigned as director of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District Board Tuesday night, saying he is moving to Novato.

The board accepted his resignation with regrets and said it will consider applications from Tamalpais Valley residents interested in filling Bovaird's term, which expires in September. Applications in letter form may be sent to the Tamalpais Valley firehouse, said Robert D. Smith.

Smith was elected chairman of the board to succeed Arthur L. Crebassa, who was elected secretary.

The board will meet again at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the firehouse to open bids for the Shoreline Highway sewer trunk line extension.

Judge Says G.M. Has No Monopoly On 'Cadillac'

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A federal judge has told General Motors Corp. it does not have a monopoly on the word "Cadillac" and ordered it to pay $41,000 to another company defending its right to use the name, too.

G.M. sought to enjoin Cadillac Boat Co. from use of Cadillac as a trademark, but U.S. Dist. Judge Noel P. Fox noted that the defendant started operations on the shore of Lake Cadillac and the name had geographic meaning.

Fox ordered G.M. to pay the boat company $41,000 in attorney fees, holding that G.M. had attempted to place an economic burden upon "a small corporation of limited assets so that it would be forced to yield to the unjust demands of plaintiff."

TIBURON SAFEWAY NEARS COMPLETION

Construction on the 20,000-square-foot Safeway Store which was started just a year ago in Fred G. Zelinsky's nine-acre development across from the Belvedere Boardwalk got into its final stages last week when approaches and parking area were surfaced. The store, with its lantern-like rooftop, is expected to be opened by March.

Albert Cole To Switch Doughnut Operations From Hub To Kentfield

Albert I. Cole of San Anselmo has bought Ray's Coffee Shop, 874 College Avenue, Kentfield, from Raymond O. Peck and will rename it Sugar n' Spice Doughtnut and Coffee Shop. The transaction was handled by John Connolly of Ross Valley Realty. Peck will keep open for another week or so and then close. He hasn't made any future plans, he says.

Cole will close his present doughtnut shop at 2070 Fourth Street, San Rafael on Feb. 29. He is also selling out Sugar n' Spice Coffee Shop in the Montecito Shopping Center to his partner Mrs. Celeste Sparks who will change the name to Sparkie's Coffee Shop.

After remodeling the Kentfield store, Cole will be ready to open there on March 15.

Shades of Marin, next door to the Miracle Mile doughnut shop, will take it over for expansion of its own quarters. M. G. Wintergren here says the extra room will relieve a crowded stock condition and enable the firm to show off its carepting to better advantage. The company incorporated for $75,000 the first of this year.

OWNERS of the Mill Valley Garbage Co. may not be averse to having the scent of their trucks disguised—but sugar in the gas tanks is hardly the right sweetener. It is also pretty poor taste in vandalism.

The company was so burned over last week's little episode it is willing to go the culprits one better and give away more "sugar" than it received to bring them to justice—$2,500 for information leading to their conviction.

TIBURON'S Chamber of Commerce will host Safeway Stores district supervisor John Ball and Everett Palmer, manager of the almost completed Tiburon store, at lunch tomorrow at the Dock. Palmer is coming from Richmond, but he is no stranger to Marin County. Several years ago he was assistant manager of the San Anselmo store.

The chamber will try to pry loose an answer to the question: "When is the Tiburon market going to open — this month, or in March?"

A. H. (DEWEY) DEWERS of San Anselmo has joined the investor relations staff of Insurance Securities Inc., San Francisco. Recently he has been in Marin County real estate business. Before that he was an account executive for N. W. Ayer and Son advertising agency.

DR. DONALD R. DAVIDSON, an optometrist formerly of Sacramento, has opened offices in unit 1 of the Northgate Shopping Center.

MRS. ALICE N. YOUNGCLAUS of Corte Madera has been promoted to operations officer and assistant cashier of Bank America's San Anselmo office. With the bank since 1955, she was previously a writer and assistant cashier in the San Francisco head office.

ANNUAL MEETING of the California Assn. of Housing Cooperatives will be held tomorrow night in the Marines Memorial Building, San Francisco. Dinner is at 7:30. Speakers: Paul C. Golz of Tiburon, executive director of F. C. Housing, Inc.; Mayor John F. Shelley of San Francisco; C. Franklin Daniels, assistant commissioner of the Federal Housing Authority.

MOTORCRAFT. Ford will introduce a new line of cars called the "Mustang" this spring—probably in April. . . . B. F. Goodrich Co. has developed an emergency automobile tire that can be folded up and stored in the glove compartment. Good for about 500 miles. No plans for marketing.

Mrs. Gatov Cites Brown On Housing

The big achievement of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's administration last year was passage of the Rumford Fair Housing Act, Mrs. Elizabeth Gatov of Kentfield declared yesterday at a luncheon at Peacock Gap Country Club.

She spoke to a gathering of about 100 Democratic Key Women from Marin and the five other counties of the First Congressional District. Mrs. Ruth Logue Lederman of Kentfield, Key Women chairman for the district, was chairman at the luncheon and fashion show.

Mrs. Gatov is Democratic National committeewoman and former Treasurer of the United States.

Speaking on "Civil Rights—Now," Mrs. Gatov listed the Fair Employment Practices Commission, Unruh Civil Rights Act, and Hawkins Housing Act as some of the other achievements of the Brown Administration.

"We have made progress," said Mrs. Gatov. "But all our liberties will be secure only to the extent that we maintain our vigilance."

Seated at the head table with Mrs. Gatov were Mrs. Vera Schultz of Mill Valley, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for State Senate; and Mrs. Thomas Storer, Marin County Key Women chairman.

Tropical hurricanes inflict damage in three ways: pounding seas, flooding and winds. Of these, the most destructive is the action of waves and hurricane tides which, in a few hours, can cause as much erosion as a century of ordinary wave action.

Palsy Campaign Gets Two-Thirds Of $15,000 Goal

The Marin County United Cerebral Palsy campaign to reach its $15,000 goal has collected $10,000 with only two weeks remaining in the drive, Judson H. Goodrich of San Rafael, general campaign chairman, announced today.

The 53-minute march by volunteers last month netted $8,000 and $2,000 has been received through the mail, he said.

"Our goal is to provide special equipment for the county's handicapped children and to support Marindale School for the Handicapped in Terra Linda," Goodrich said.

Persons who were not at home when a volunteer called at their homes may send their contributions within the next two weeks.

'SORRY, MUST MOVE'

Freeway Gag Cards Startle Residents

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Startled Los Angeles area residents are getting a bad case of freewayitis from cards in the mail that read:

"The Freeway Planning Commission announces that construction will begin immediately on an underpass and interchange right where your house is sitting."

Official announcement?

Nope. It's a gag greeting card that's swamped the Division of Highways with phone calls this past week from anxious homeowners.

"Wishing to avoid imposition on you, the commission voted to move your house 20 feet east of its present location to avoid placing an off ramp through your bathroom," the card continues.

Amson McArthur of Anaheim, manufacturer of the card, said his firm has distributed thousands of them across the nation.

"They've just hit the market and are driving people wild," he confessed. "It's all in fun, but some people take them seriously."

Point Reyes Women Sending Clausen Report On Dispute

Two Point Reyes residents are sending a report to Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) on the dispute over access to the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Mrs. James W. Lockhart of Drakes Summit Road and Mrs. Christine Kohler of Drake's Beach Estates, representing protesting property owners, will report on the situation. "We're doing this at his request," Mrs. Lockhart said.

For the past two weekends, residents have placed a chain barricade across Drake Summit Road, blocking access to Limantour Spit in the national seashore.

The Lockharts, across whose property the road runs, claim it is a private road and should not be used for public traffic.

Point Reyes is not prepared for throngs of visitors, Mrs. Lockhart said.

The barricade will be up again this weekend and the road closed until further notice, she said.

Release 3 Marin Forts, U.S. Asked

Rep. Don H. Clausen of the Redwood Empire District yesterday asked the secretary of the army to release Forts Barry, Baker and Cronkhite in South Marin for park and recreation use.

In a letter to Army Secretary Stephen Ailes, Clausen said the idleness of the three forts on the Golden Gate headlands in Marin County "constitutes an apparent misuse of natural resources.

Resolutions were introduced in the state legislature last week asking the president and Congress to convey the forts to the state for conversion to park use. The resolutions were introduced in the Senate by Sen. John F. McCarthy and pushed in the Assembly by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (both R-San Rafael)

Carpenter Injured In Tiburon Fall

Terry Johnson, a 19-year-old apprentice carpenter, suffered a broken wrist and painful bruises Tuesday when he fell 12 feet from the roof of the Del Mar School science building under construction in Tiburon.

David Teather, building inspector, said Johnson was driving a nail and must have fainted because "he was in a safe enough place and there was no apparent reason to fall off."

Charles H. Ford, project superintendent for Pacific Co. of Berkeley, general contractors, administered first aid to Johnson. The young carpenter was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after treatment for a broken left wrist and bruises over most of his body.

Johnson, who married last Dec. 31, lives with his bride at 1565 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

New Mill Valley Phone Prefix

Mill Valley has a new telephone prefix. It's "383."

The prefix, added to the former "388" (formerly DUnlap 8), gives the city two prefixes. The reason for the addition is growth, said Charles F. Berlenbach Jr., Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. manager for Southern Marin. "We're getting close to running out of the 388 prefix numbers," he said.

He stressed there will be no number change for those subscribers who already have the 388 prefix.

Greenbrae Owners Election Slated

Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. will elect directors at its annual membership meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the multi-purpose room of Greenbrae School.

Anthony Bacich, curriculum coordinator of the Kentfield School District, will speak about "New Approaches to Education in the Coming Decade."

The nominating committee, led by William G. Fleckles, will submit a list of nominees, and nominations will be invited from the floor.

YEAR-AROUND PLAN AT COLLEGE URGED

Epler Asks Two Summer Sessions Each 6 Weeks Long Plus Workshops, Seminars

College of Marin President Stephen E. Epler has drawn up a list of goals for the college which includes a proposal to double the length of the summer session.

The report on Epler's goals for the college was requested by the district board when he was re-hired for four years on Dec. 18. The board has received the report but has not publicly discussed it.

Epler proposes a year-around class schedule which would provide two summer sessions, each six weeks long. The college heretofore has operated one six-week session each summer.

The summer schedule should be flexible enough to permit three-day or three-week workshops and seminars, Epler wrote. The length of various courses could vary.

Epler also reported that construction of the Corte Madera Creek project "must start soon if development of the college campus is not to be seriously hurt."

Development of the lower campus depends on plans to construct a settling basin in the area between Magnolia Avenue and Corte Madera Creek, he explained.

The college has already started construction on the physical education complex in part of this area.

Epler's comments on other goals include:

1. State and federal legislation: The board should continue its leadership in broadening the financial base for junior colleges.

2. District organization: With development of the North Marin campus, there would be a high degree of "local control" but board activities, business, maintenance and general administration should be centralized.

3. Faculty: Employment and holding of high quality teachers requires careful selection, a favorable salary schedule, and personnel policies "which foster maximum development of the good teacher."

4. Students: Expanded use of seminars, informal discussions, off-campus speakers, and better coordination or recreational and intramural programs are recommended.

5. Curriculum: Expansion of pre-employment and occupationally related programs along with development of in-service training and retraining of those displaced by technological advancements can be expected.

6. Research: More emphasis on institutional research would call for assignment of an assistant dean of instruction.

Reed Children Exhibits Due At Science Fair

Exhibits prepared by pupils of Del Mar, Bel Aire and Reed schools will be shown in the Reed Union School District through Feb. 22 in the Del Mar multi-purpose room, chairman Theodore McMillan announced today.

To be displayed will be more than 200 exhibits of seventh- and eighth-grade pupils from Del Mar School plus selected exhibits by fifth- and sixth-grade pupils from Bel Aire and Reed schools.

Viewing hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Feb. 21, and 9 a.m. to noon Feb. 22.

Exhibits will be judged Thursday night by honor students of Redwood High School. Coordinating the event are instructors Ronald Ottesen of Bel Aire School and Robert Gowan of Reed School.

Winners in the seventh- and eighth-grade classification will go on to the Marin County Science Fair March 12-14 at San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Meyer Davis To Play At White House Dance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, following the custom of seven of his predecessors, has asked veteran dance band leader Meyer Davis to provide the music for tomorrow's White House dinner dance for British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

Davis, 68, began playing for White House parties during the Harding administration and has played for seven presidential inaugural balls. The Marine Band provided all White House music until Davis persuaded Mrs. Harding that a professional dance band was more suitable for balls.

Land On Agenda Of College Board

Purchase of the Pacheco Ranch for the North Marin campus of the College of Marin may be considered by the Marin Junior College District board today at its 8 p.m. meeting.

On the agenda is an item designated, "property acquisition." College president Stephen E. Epler said the item was put on the agenda in case the board wanted to discuss buying the property.

Also on the agenda are approval of plans f nydrants in the area of the new gymnasium, and a
from the music department for use of the temporary Butler building for when the physical education department moves into the gymnasium.

Cable Cut Started Siren In Tiburon

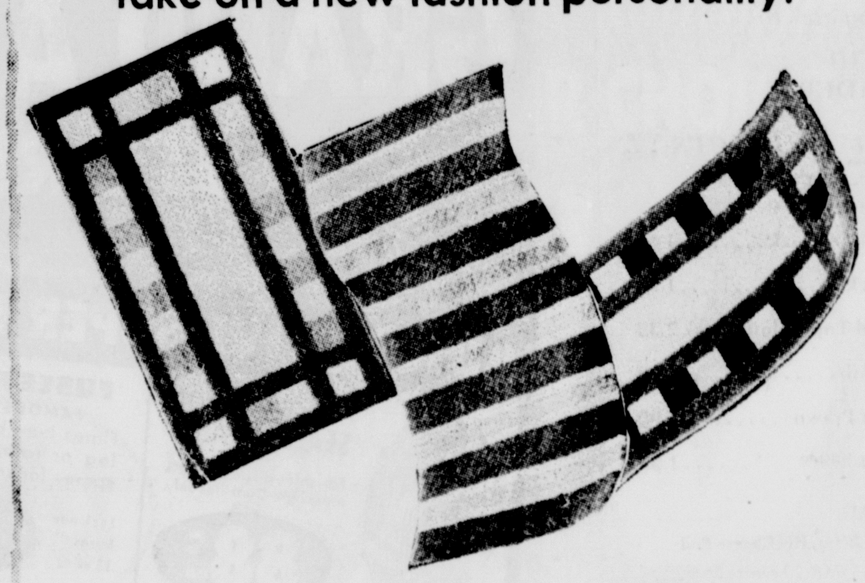

Tiburon's fire and air raid siren at Tiburon Boulevard and Jefferson Drive, which sounded off intermittently Tuesday afternoon, was set off by the accidental cutting of a telephone cable at Del Mar School, Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher said today, and not because of a short circuit as was reported to the Independent-Journal.

The siren, out of service for a day, has been repaired.

New Marin City Co-Ops Call Best Deal For Negroes—Now

New co-operative apartments in Marin City may not be the answer to everybody's housing problem, but they are one of the best deals available right now to Negroes in Marin.

This is what some 35 persons facing relocation were told last night at a "home-buying" meeting in the Marin City Lounge.

Their response was not enthusiastic.

A panel of private and federal authorities on home financing and redevelopment was present at request of Mrs. E. F. Pierce, chairman of the minority housing subcommittee of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Urban Development.

Purpose of the meeting was to explain problems of home-buying and apartment-rental to the residents of Marin City's "flats," soon to be evicted for redevelopment of the area. Emphasis was placed, however, on the advantages of purchasing shares in the co-operative apartments were described by Richard M. Adams of Belvedere, attorney for developer James H. Scheuer, and Robert B. Pitts of Mill Valley, assistant administrator of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

"Where do we go if we fall in between the required income levels for the new apartments and don't qualify?" one woman asked.

Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, admitted that "the county doesn't provide much alternative, but we are offering apartments in our Hilarita project in Tiburon."

Stutsman said: "We hadn't counted on very many of you falling into the gap between eligibility requirements, but the situation has changed since the redevelopment started.

"I know Marin City has been for many of your your home for 20 years. It's difficult to leave, we realize that."

Also, Stutsman said, Hilarita units, although technically available to persons whose incomes do not qualify for the new apartments, are "generally rather small apartments and may not be adequate for some families."

Pitts said income ranges may be increased eventually by the housing authority since they are "examined from time to time." (Present maximum annual income for a family of two persons to qualify for the co-operatives is $7,000.)

Minimum requirements vary from one case to another, Pitts said, with a family's "credit history" being a major consideration. It is essential in a co-operative, he said, for every apartment dweller to be able to "pull his share of the load."

Adams, in answer to another question, said the "eventual plan of Marin City redevelopment is to have an integrated community, but first we have to give first chance to those already here."

Elaine Blair, San Rafael real estate agent, said she was impressed by the "difference in what you can get between the open market and the co-operative." She said there are "astonishingly few houses available in Marin at $21,000 or $22,000."

However, she urged anyone not interested in the co-operative to "go to real estate agents in the county . . . There are many who will try to help you."

$1,700 City Pay Study To Start In Mill Valley

Classification of Mill Valley city employees as to position and pay by the state personnel board will begin tomorrow at the city hall. The city council authorized $1,700 for the study last fall.

Vernon Schweitzer, state survey director, will conduct three orientation sessions tomorrow and ask that employees fill out forms. The state will meet with department heads and perform desk audits March 5-10, collecting salary data for a report to the city council about April 8.

This report is to provide an estimate of salaries to be ready for use in thae 1964-65 budget. The city council is to take the report under submission and a 10-day period will be given for employees to appeal the state recommendations.

Hospital Aides Ask $97,000 For Equipment

The operations committee of Marin General Hospital District last night was handed requests for $97,000 in new equipment compiled by department heads.

The committee instructed Administrator William W. Turner to draw up a priority list for purchase of the equipment.

Turner told the committee that purchase of new equipment had fallen off while construction and remodeling at Marin General Hospital was given top priority. There is about $60,000 in the equipment purchase fund, he said.

The committee wrote off $8,182.40 in bad debts and heard that unpaid bills represented less than one per cent of patients treated at the hospital.

IT'S NICE TO BE RESCUED

Dustin White, 17, of Glencoe, Ill., was stranded yesterday when an ice floe drifted from the shore of Lake Michigan. E. B. Taylor, a hardware merchant from adjacent Winnetka, started to paddle foam boat to floating ice cake while firemen held a rope from shore. White waited high and dry as Taylor was just about to land—and landed in the drink as the boat flipped over. The youth got aboard for a dry ride to shore while his rescuer, having gotten wet, decided to wade back, pushing the boat ahead of him. (AP Wirephotos)

Burglar Flees As Owner Returns Home

A burglar was scared away empty handed from a home at 53 Birch Street, Corte Madera, last night when the owner, Richard A. Dilling, returned home.

Dilling told Corte Madera police that he opened the front door and someone ran out the rear sliding door. Entry was made by breaking the glass in the rear door, police said.

Papermill Creek Due Water Again

Campers in Samuel P. Taylor State Park and residents along Papermill Creek will again hear the constant gurgling of a full-fledged stream.

The Marin Municipal Water District board, in a "public relations gesture," yesterday agreed to release water to the ranch of Waldo Giacomini in Point Reyes Station from Kent Lake rather than Nicasio reservoir.

The release of water from Kent Lake will insure a steady flow through Paper Mill Creek, according to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger.

The stream had dried up last summer, Seeger said. Water used to be released from Kent Lake until Nicasio reservoir was completed. Release of the water from Nicasio was slightly cheaper because it didn't have to be pumped, Seeger said.

The water is released because Giacomini has a prior right to it, according to Seeger.

The Marin Municipal Water District Board Also:

1. Set Feb. 26 for opening of bids on 830 feet of 16-inch pipe and fencing around tanks at the Miller Creek, Lucas Valley and San Clemente sites.

2. Agreed that persons under 17 years old will not be required to obtain fishing permits to fish in the district's lakes this year, while those 17 or older will have to pay $3.

3. Changed the policy whereby sports goods stores bought the fishing permits from the district and then sold them. Hereafter, the stores will be furnished with supplies of permits and the money given to the district as they are sold.

4. Heard that 500,000 fish were stocked in the district's lakes in 1963.

5. Hired architect Roger Ranuilo of San Francisco to design the new corporation yard adjacent to the district office in Corte Madera and agreed to sell back to the city of Mill Valley for $4,700 its corporation yard adjacent to the Mill Valley treatment plant.

6. Approved a trip of Seeger and one director to the meeting of the American Water Works Assn. in Toronto May 31 to June 5 at district expense.

7. Approved five pipeline extensions totaling about $40,000.

8. Heard Robert Lewis of Bob's TV of San Rafael protest the $300 rental fee for location of his master antenna to serve Fairfax on district property, but took no action pending decision of the Fairfax city council as to who will get the television franchise.

9. Approved warrants totaling $218,669.04.

Larkspur Rec Off

The Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission's meeting scheduled for last night was postponed to Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. because of the holiday and because chairman Robert V. Golden is in South America.

3 Seek Novato Fire Board Job

Ralph C. (Doc) Briggs of 1175 Midway Boulevard, Novato, filed today for the Novato Fire District Board.

Robert E. Campbell of 1301 Olive Avenue and Kenneth L. Roche of 34 Washington Street had filed earlier for the one opening on the board.

Filings closed at noon today with the election to be held April 7, fire chief George Cavallero said.

Cadets Win Many Honors, Promotions

More than 75 cadets of San Rafael Military Academy won academic honors and military promotions during the fall semester, Rev. Sumner Walters, headmaster, announced today.

Rick C. Hillrigel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hillrigel of 30 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, won top scholastic honors in the upper school with a straight-A average.

Eighth-grader William Weissich, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Weissich of 211 Locust Avenue, San Rafael, was top student in the lower school with an A-minus average.

Marin County cadets who received the distinctive honor cord for maintaining at least a B-plus average were William E. and Frederick T. Dietrich and Philip J. Welchman of Mill Valley; Dennis B. Cooke, John Earley and Richard P. Hackett of San Rafael; Mark R. Proctor of Larkspur; Richard Y. Tang of San Anselmo, and Richard C. Gardner of Sausalito.

Named cadets of the month were Dennis S. Winkelman of Belvedere and Robert F. Pinkham of Chico.

Military promotions in the upper school were earned by William Gochnauer, San Rafael, sergeant first class; Grant E. Tanner, Corte Madera, sergeant, and Brian A. Jeffrey, George B. O'Neill, John Peterson and Greg A. Wilson of San Rafael, to corporal.

Students in the lower school receiving promotions were Ted Pollock and William B. Wright of San Rafael and William F. Kellen of Tiburon to corporal.

Another Session On Horses Due At Ross Council

Another session on the keeping of horses in Ross is in store for the Ross Town Council at 8 p.m. today.

Sol Abrams of 6 Sylvan Lane, who is seeking stricter regulations regarding horses, reported that he will present new data to the council.

He said he would urge the council to place the keeping of horses under a permit system.

Last month Abrams charged that horses are being kept too close to homes. A group of horse owners filled council chambers to defend the present code which requires that a horse be kept at least 50 feet from a dwelling.

College Radio Club Elects

Officers of the College of Marin's Amateur Radio Club have been elected for the spring semester.

Robert Benson of San Rafael will serve as president, replacing Al Christian, past president.

Other officers are Thomas Kramer of San Rafael, vice president and Marshall Scott of Novato, secretary-treasurer.

Priest In Marin For Orphans

Rev. William Porter Carloni, founder of Orphans of Italy, Inc., toured Marin yesterday to see "old friends, who are some of my most loyal helpers."

The Catholic priest, who as an Italian Army chaplain, saw the need for aid and protection of war orphans during World War II, is director of an organization that provides homes and education for more than 2,000 boys and girls in nine institutions throughout Italy.

"I now come to the United States each year to visit those who provide us with assistance the year around," he said, "and some of the best are here in Marin."

Father Carloni, whose mother was an American, organized the Orphans in 1949 to help children from all parts of Europe, Russia and North Africa. "Now we help the many urchins in Italy," he said. "Some of our trade schools, such as the one in Milan, are now self-sufficient."

There are 23 local chapters in the United States which aid the Orphans. Chairman of the Marin unit, which sponsors a benefit dinner each summer, is attorney P. Roy Vallarino. Honorary chairmen are Mrs. Peter Caletti, Mrs. Frank Ratto and Judge N. Charles Brusatori.

Father Carloni was born in Florence and is now superior of the Oratory of St. Philip Neri in Verona. His United States tour will end next month in New York and New England.

Marinite Trains In Columbia

David French Fletcher, son of Mrs. Virginia W. Palmer of 41 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, is one of 32 Peace Corps volunteers spending their first month in Columbia working in a rural community development program.

He joined more than 500 volunteers already working in that area, showing the people what they can do for themselves, according to Peace Corps officials.

Fletcher received intensive instruction in Spanish and reviewed the history and culture of Latin America during a three-month training period at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque.

Leasing For Free Saves County Funds

MIAMI (AP)—The Dade County Port Authority has decided to save money by leasing two transmitter sites to the federal government for nothing.

The government had been paying a dollar a year for the sites but the Authority says the bookkeeping costs come to more than that.

Bircher's JFK Blast 'His Right'

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—The president of the University of Illinois indicated today he would not discipline a professor who attacked the late President John F. Kennedy in a John Birch Society publication.

Dr. Davis Dodds Henry said the article by classical languages Prof. Revilo P. Oliver was "unreasoned and vitriolic . . . unworthy of public attention."

But he added that Oliver wrote "on a matter beyond his university responsibilities and has done so for a non-university journal."

"There is nothing before me as president on which I may comment officially," he said.

Oliver, a veteran professor who is also a member of the John Birch Society's national council, stirred up a campus furor with a 16-page article in the society's official publication, American Opinion.

The article charged that Kennedy was assassinated by the Communists because he had fallen behind in a timetable for Communist domination of the United States. Kennedy's memory, Oliver said, would be "cherished with distaste."

Although the student newspaper and acting provost Jack W. Peltason attacked the article, his right as a private citizen to write it was defended.

Amateur Actor Is Non-Stop Student

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — James Johnson of Des Moines had a part in an amateur play which called for him to spend 20 minutes of the first act locked in a box on stage.

The high school youth rigged the box with a portable light and spent his waiting time in — of all things — studying.

Quarry Operation Brings Complaints

A quarry operation at Black Point, considered a running sore by residents of the area since 1951, has been back in operation the past few weeks.

Residents complained, because a five-year use permit for the operation ran out 18 months ago, and the Marin County Planning Commission will consider the problem Monday.

The new operators, Matich, Garnier and Long, are not actually operating a full aggregate quarry operation at the site south of Highway 37 near Harbor Drive, but are merely cutting rock out of a hillside and hauling it away, according to company spokesman Donald W. Baker of Novato.

The processing machinery for crushing rock at the site will not be started, Baker promised. The rock is being used as fill for the San Marin development. The use permit request is item 20 on the agenda for the planning commission's session starting at 9 a.m. Monday.

The commission will discuss several major changes in the county zoning ordinance. Proposals for two new zones are scheduled to be presented, and major changes in the commercial and industrial zones, which have been discussed before, will be up again.

The provisions of the commercial and industrial zones would tighten restrictions and exclude residential uses from most such zones.

In the industrial zones, as now proposed, the types of industries allowed would be restricted by specific performance standards on possible nuisances, rather than by listing various types of products or processes.

The two new zones are being rushed into at least skeleton form to comply with provisions of the Bolinas - Stinson Beach Master Plan. Approval of zoning for the area has been held up awaiting the zones the plan calls for.

One of the zones is the commercial-recreation district, proposed for the south end of Stinson Beach and on the Bolinas Lagoon. This is designed for commercial uses related to transient purchasers going to the state park and beach.

The zone would contain trailer parks, motels, restaurants, boat repair facilities and bait shops, according to proposals, but the hope is to control the uses so that a honky-tonk appearance may be avoided.

The other new zone would be for low-density average lot size development, slated for use in the hills behind Stinson Beach and Bolinas. Under the proposal, development might be kept as low as two, three, five or even 10 acres per dwelling.

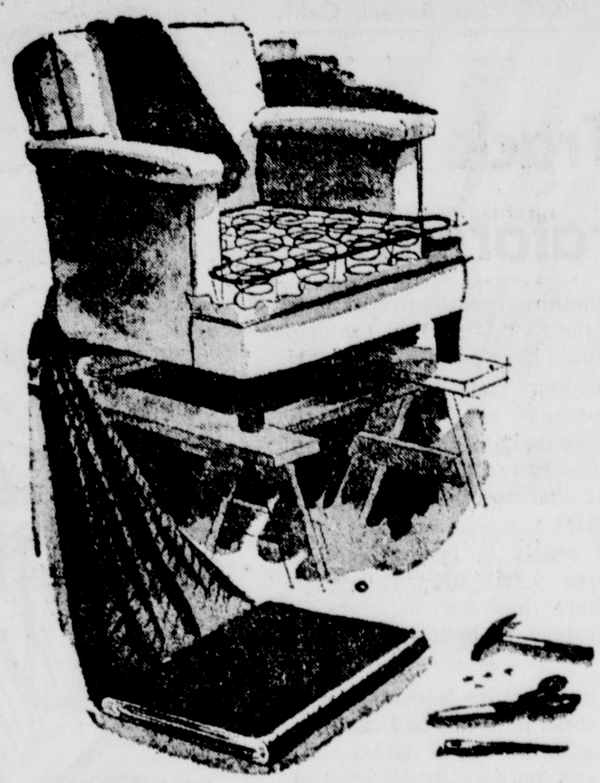

But such densities would be averages, and, in fact, the homes would be expected to be clustered on small spaces of buildable sites, leaving much larger expanses free of any development.

The commercial and industrial zones will be considered as item 1, and the two new zones as item 8, with the precise zoning for Stinson Beach and Bolinas as item 9.

Plans by Marin Catholic High School to build eight classrooms in a one-story building to be placed within the quadrangle now formed by the administration building and classrooms on the campus in Greenbrae will be heard as item 36.

Plans by I. N. Tucker for a medical building at 32 Reed Street, Mill Valley, will be acted on as item 14. The matter was continued from the last meeting after the planning staff asked denial.

ABAG On Right Track In Opposing Fill Moratorium

ABAG (Assn. of Bay Area Governments) is on the right track in its stand against a state-enforced moratorium on bay filling.

Bay filling ought to be simply a matter of home rule; that is, counties and cities which embrace bay shoreline ought to determine for themselves how they want their sectors developed, or not developed.

Unfortunately, it may not be quite so simple. There may be unfavorable consequences to one county or city because of filling by a neighboring jurisdiction.

This is one aspect of the problem that the Corps of Engineer's bay model at Sausalito may be able to shed some light upon. That is the hope expressed by ABAG and the Bay Area Council in asking that the bay model be continued in operation beyond midsummer when the flow of federal funds sustaining it is scheduled to stop.

We are inclined to agree with ABAG that it is the logical organization to coordinate planning by cities and counties for bayfront development.

Under the presidency of San Rafael Mayor John McInnis, ABAG has evolved as an effective force. The aloofness of some hold-out counties and cities made ABAG something less than representative of all the Bay Area. Now the principal hold-outs have come into the fold.

While we don't claim to know all the behind-the-scenes work that brought this about, we do know that as president John McInnis had to play an important part and is, therefore, due appropriate commendation.

McInnis excels at leading factions with diverse views toward common ground where they can cooperate for progress instead of battle to a standstill.

We are sure that his leadership abilities along these lines has had considerable to do with the rise of ABAG as an important and increasingly effective instrument for solving mutual problems of Bay Area governments and the people represented by these governments.

We say let ABAG handle the coordination of bay tidelands development, coincident with the continuation of development.

A flat prohibition on development for an extended period is just not realistic. The idea of imposing some "outside" authority on development, in place of home rule, is undemocratic and unwise.

WHIRLYBIRDS TO THE RESCUE

Helicopters are serving the public interest in a variety of ways these days.

In California, they are being used by a Fresno County sheriff on lifesaving missions in the Sierra Mountains. One involved the rescue of a pilot and two passengers who were stranded after their small charter plane crashed at an altitude of 8,600 feet. On another trip, medicine was flown to a boy camping with his father in the mountains.

Canadian patrol officers find that helicopters enable them to do more than a year's work in five hours. By taking to the air, they can quickly spot illegal dumping in river valleys that might block channels and increase flood hazard.

Do what you can to see that the inventive genius of man is used to benefit humanity rather than cause harm.

God has placed all creation at the disposal of mankind. But He leaves it to the initiative and resourcefulness of human beings to discover and put to constructive use the seemingly limitless resources of nature.

"Oh, the depth of the riches of the wisdom and of the knowledge of God."

Governor, Not Democrats, Seen As GOP Target In Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California's Republicans in the Assembly, bruised and battered still over the Democratic onslaught at the close of the 1963 session, are reforming ranks slowly in an effort to maintain what prestige they have left.

Admittedly, there isn't much, but there are indications the attack from now on will be primarily against the governor's program offered the Legislature this year, rather than against the Democratic leaders in the Assembly, who maintained the upper hand in organization of the House.

ASSEMBLYMAN Charles J. Conrad (R-Hollywood), the minority leader in the Assembly, had some cutting words concerning the program.

"How can the governor's press agents," he asked, "keep a straight face as they grind out the annual statement about 'no new taxes' when at the same time Governor Brown is proposing a new tax for the insurance companies and a county-wide tax for the property owner?

"How can the governor's director of finance boast of a 'soundly balanced budget' when the only way this can be accomplished is by new bond issues and more state debt?

"It will be no laughing matter to the people of California after 1964 when the bills for the election year programs come due. California's future state tax increases will make the 1959 tax rise seem modest by comparison!"

THE GOVERNOR is advocating the county-wide equalization tax for school districts, twice rejected by the Legislature, to raise more money for schools at the local level. Under the present system, school districts assess on the basis of their boundaries, rather than at the county-wide level.

And Assemblyman Bob Monagan (R-Tracy) declared that "one can only be appalled at the manner" in which the governor is attempting to solve the many problems of a mushrooming state.

"The story of every one of recent budgets is 'more'," Monagan declared. "More spending, more debt, more taxes, more government agencies and more government departments.

"Not once in any budget message that I have read or listened to has there ever been used the words reduce, economize, or eliminate."

THE TRACY assemblyman said obviously the budget is going to be bigger every year. He also declared addition of 760 million dollars in new bonded debt would place the state one step nearer the day "when we cannot even utilize this form of financing because of the crushing interest and debt service charges."

Monagan charged that the proposed tax decrease for the small taxpayer is "duplicity of the worst sort."

"Little taxpayers," he declared, "have already been defrauded of 2.5 million dollars promised them, and this latest approach is too late and too little."

Conversion Bill Vs. Hunter's Point Yard

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Economic Conversion bill (S2274) introduced by Senator George McGovern (and nine colleagues) establishes a commision to study the policies and provisions to be carried out by the Federal Government in converting our industry to nonmilitary uses without adding to unemployment. Since we already have an absurd "over kill" capacity it seems only rational to gradually recede from "war industry" dependence.

This bill, and its House counterparts, are essential preliminories for a sane approach to the problems epitomized by the Hunter's Point Shipyard furor. Responsible leadership actually had the gall to insist on maintenance of this facility, even if it was useless. Good citizenship demands that we pressure our legislators toward a "Cold Peace."

Individual and group efforts are essential to help support passage of "conversion laws" which will maintain our economic strength and avoid a depression.

School Tax Proposal Would Not Bring Cut

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was happy to see that Robert Fairbanks covered Gov. Brown's school tax proposal in Thursday night's paper (Feb. 2). However, I feel that it is as equally important to point out some of the possible consequences of this proposal.

Of course, the important question is whether or not this bill if passed would actually result in a property tax cut, not could it. The conscientious taxpayer is concerned with tangible savings, not wishful thinking. . . .

. . . It is a mistake to look at this bill as a property tax cut because it is not; it's an education bill, and there has never been one yet in our history that has not cost the taxpayer money. It is also important to remember that in order to cut any taxes, spending must be cut first. If there are as many poor school districts as this editorial indicated there are, then it is only logical to assume, taking all factors into consideration, that there will be no property tax cut within the near future, even if the bill were passed.

Laws Should Be Obeyed By All

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In respect to a recent letter by Capt. Parnow (of the California Highway Patrol) with regard to enforcement of the traffic laws, I wish to state that I disagree with him.

I have been under the impression that traffic laws, like all other laws, are made for all of our citizens to obey and should be enforced.

If a law is not enforcible, repeal it.

There may be emergencies come up to make an exception, but each case should be investigated.

Reality Of Our Time Requires The UN

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent attacks by Messrs. Woodward, Head and Pessner on the U. N., which is clearly supported by American foreign policy, are, in our judgment, completely uninformed. . . . The reality of our time is that there must be some international authority such as the United Nations. With high-speed travel and instant communications blanketing the globe, the nature of our world society is such that, if we killed the U. N. on Saturday, we would have to invent something like it on Monday—in order to survive. And the new organization would be made up of the same kinds of people, delegated from the same nations, and would represent the same virtues and weaknesses all men are heir to and which are found in the parliaments and senates of the world—and in the U. N.

. . . The world stoppers denounce the U. N., but they rarely have facts to back their accusations. Though their voices are often loud, fortunately they are a small minority. The Gallup Poll recently revealed that 79 per cent of the public supports U. S. membership in the U. N. while only 8 per cent believe the U. S. should give up its membership.

Is San Geronimo A Tourists' Center

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Attended the Board of Supervisors meeting Feb. 4 that considered final plans for commercial zoning in lovely San Geronimo Valley. I was surprised to hear a note read by the attorney representing the business people, as follows, quote: "Seventy five per cent of the business in the valley comes from the tourist trade". This note was passed to him by a real estate broker.

Now I ask, why do they need more than four grocery stores, etc. and how do all the businesses stay open in the winter when the tourist trade is nil? I see enough ramshackled stores, etc. now as I drive home thru the Valley to Inverness.

Hope the Supervisors accept the decision of our able Planning Commission. Keep the Valley green and golden.

There's a minister in northern Minnesota who's so fond of horseradish that he keeps a big bowl of it at all times on his dining room table. A guest, too busy talking to note what he was eating, swallowed a whole tablespoonful of it one evening. When he stopped choking, he commented weakly, "Well, Parson, I've heard many of you fellows preach hell fire, but you're the first one I ever met who hands out samples of it!"

It seems there are rich and poor termites, too — because I learn from Liz McMurray that one of the very richest termites—in Texas, of course —just gave his wife a lumber yard on their wooden anniversary.

First 75 Days In White House For Johnson, Compared With Kennedy's

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson recently passed his 75th day in the White House without any known calamities. That was the way it was with President John F. Kennedy in his first 75 days.

But then the roof fell in on Kennedy. On his 85th day he headed into a major mistake, self-made. That was the day the disastrous Cuban invasion got under way. And he had backed it.

Nothing like it is in sight for Johnson although critical trouble hit him earlier than Kennedy: The Panama riots, which were none of his doing.

THIS IS a picture of the two men in their first 75 days and their problems:

Both got wide public approval for the energy they put into their job. They had this and perhaps only two other things in common.

Where President Dwight D. Eisenhower had operated through his staff, like a chairman of the board, Kennedy and Johnson tackled their multiple problems directly and both backed liberal programs.

Those three elements — hard work, direct attention to details, and a definite social and political viewpoint—may be considered essentials of the presidency. But there is another vital one, judgment.

KENNEDY'S judgment wasn't always good, but he had time to make up for his mistakes. He had almost three years in which to be weighed and measured through trial and error. At his death the country seemed to think he had balanced well.

Johnson hasn't goofed badly yet, at least so far as can be seen. He'll probably make mistakes, maybe beauts, being human. But, with less than nine months before election, he doesn't have the time Kennedy did to make up for them. A couple of bad ones before November could ruin him.

Since there were more than two months between Kennedy's election and the day he took office, Kennedy had one big advantage over Johnson. He had more time to get ready, to pick his own people and prepare his programs.

THE PRESIDENCY just fell on Johnson. But this had its merits. He inherited a going concern. But, just because the men around him were already well known, it meant the nation put its entire attention on him.

This by itself would force him or anyone to extra effort since it meant everything he did, and how he did it, was being compared with Kennedy. In some ways Johnson had an advantage over Kennedy, in some not.

This country's most troublesome opponent, Premier Nikita Khrushchev, was both friendly and cantankerous with Kennedy, starting out. He has been mild and even almost self-effacing with Johnson.

KENNEDY HAD foreign problems in his first 75 days, but they weren't explosive for this country. Algeria was mainly a French concern; the United Nations had to tackle the Congo.

Johnson's foreign troubles were more numerous, fiery and widespread. Some, like the Panama crisis, directly affected this country: South Vietnam coup and French President Charles de Gaulle's recognition of Red China.

These were in addition to mutinies in Africa, the revolt in Zanzibar, civil war in Cyprus, and the old threat of war in Malaysia.

IN THE BEGINNING, at least, the two presidents' speeches had a very similar and very obvious literary flourish. They had pretty much the same men helping them.

As time went on, Johnson's talks seemed less literary, more homely, perhaps not as sharply organized.

This may prove more effective than the self-conscious literary quality of the Kennedy talks.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

It's Easier Now To Buy U. S. Land Tracts

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Under the Johnson administration, it will be much easier to buy small, isolated tracts of public lands from the government. The Interior Department has found its regulations for the sale of public land as dated as the wagon train, particularly in the Western public land states.

BUT NOW, under proposed changes in regulations, the federal government can be petitioned to sell many small tracts of land completely surrounded by private holdings.

Available will be isolated tracts of less than 1,520 acres and mountainous tracts up to 760 acres. The government will give adjoining land owners preference to buy.

THE FEDERAL government is going ahead with plans to tighten up its depressed-areas program despite President Lyndon B. Johnson's new anti-poverty drive. A total of 152 so-called depressed areas in 34 states and Puerto Rico have received word that they may soon lose their eligibility to qualify for aid from the Area Redevelopment Administration unless they submit their over-all economic development plan by March 31, 1964.

This plan outlines needed sewers, streets, or other public improvements which would encourage the expansion of business, attract new industry, or stimulate tourist trade.

CHARLES BOHLEN, U. S. ambassador in Paris, has informed the State Department that Spain very probably will establish diplomatic relations with Russia in a few months. Bohlen reported that backstage discussions on that are under way on the "ambassadorial level" in Paris.

Red China is still buying grain to cope with its seemingly insoluble food shortage. Latest purchase is some 450,000 tons of wheat from Mexico.

THIS TRANSACTION is doubly significant because only a decade ago, Mexico was a grain importer. Now it has a 900,000-ton surplus and is looking for buyers. The sale to Red China will bring in around 27 million dollars.

Mexico also is selling Peking 35,000 bales of cotton, and is working on a deal involving 500,000 bales over a period of years. The cotton transaction will net Mexico around 5 million dollars.

THE U. S. is paying Panama 2 million dollars annually as its share of canal tolls. That is more than the U. S. collects. As Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the House appropriations committee, caustically remarked, "Panama wants one-half of the receipts of the canal. If that were granted, they would get nothing because the receipts do not equal the interest payments on the debt to build the canal. And there are no profits from the canal, because we have never made enough to liquidate our original cost of construction."

Tam Students Aren't Learning To Shift Gears For Themselves

THE TAMALPAIS Union High School District has received three new cars this semester for its driver training courses — and all are equipped with automatic transmissions.

The use of cars with automatics transmissions has been the policy of the district for about the last two years.

The reason, according to district officials, is that it is more important to learn "attitude" than the sheer mechanics of shifting gears.

BY ATTITUDE, they mean control of the car, safety and courtesy. Shifting becomes a "major distraction" when the importance of "attitude" becomes paramount.

School officials figure that the student will learn the practice of shifting gears when, and if, they ever own cars with a manual shift. In the meantime, the only training the students receive in shifting gears is in the realm of theory.

THE NEWLY-ORGANIZED Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce held its first "promotion" event last Saturday.

A handful of officers, directors and members took a five-minute helicopter ride from Commodore Aviation to the parking lot of the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

The parking lot of the shopping center was selected because it was the only large paved area in the town which could be used as a landing pad. In other cases, the chamber will try not to discriminate between the three shopping centers in town.

THE WISDOM of a helicopter ride to promote the town can be questioned.

However, the chamber does have some more solid plans. These include a membership drive, publication of a brochure and establishment of an information center.

The chamber plans to promote Corte Madera as a shopping center, "central take off" point for the scenic portions of the county and as an area suitable for "quality development."

Crusade Against Plunder Of Marin

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I, and at least a thousand like me in San Rafael, are concerned about the inappropriate development of Marin County and are particularly alarmed at the arbitrary and imperious decision of four members of the San Rafael Planning Commission last Tuesday night (Feb. 4) in giving "planned community" zoning approval to the Draper Company in their plan to put high density, high-rise apartments on the Terra Linda Hill.

We, as residents and property owners oppose the Draper apartment plan. We selected Marin as a place to live and bring up our families largely because of its pastoral atmosphere. We felt that residing in Marin, away from the ugly, crowed conditions of San Francisco, the Peninsula and East Bay was worth the sacrifices required in added living costs and compounded commute problems. We wanted to provide a suitable environment for our children —for their environment will determine their character. The preservation of environment is of great importance to us, and I would hope, to our elected officials of government. . . .

I invite all persons who believe that "progress" means "to the betterment of society" to join in the crusade against the plunder of Beautiful Marin.

President, Home End Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sir Alec Douglas-Home, Britain's prime minister, pledged today to seek ways of reducing tension, and said they were determined "the pursuit of peace should be unfalteringly maintained."

A joint communique issued after a two-day Anglo-American summit meeting emphasized that Britain is supporting U.S. policy in South Vietnam, while the United States pledges support for "the peaceful national independence" of Malaysia.

Saying that last year's limited nuclear test ban treaty "marked an advance on the road to the peaceful resolution of the problems which divide East and West," the president and the prime minister stressed the need "to go forward from there and search for other ways of reducing tension."

The two leaders expressed the hope that the Soviet Union "will examine with the greatest seriousness" the proposals the United States and Britain put forward at the Geneva disarmament conference of 17 nations.

The communique failed to mention U.S. - British differences on trade with Cuba. It only said that Johnson "stressed his concern" at the present situation in the Carribean area and the "subversive and disruptive influence of the present Cuban regime."

Dixie School 'Reserve Not High Enough'

Robert J. Soderblom of the auditing firm of Dalton, Graupner and Barber told trustees of Dixie School District last night the district should maintain a higher reserve in its budget.

The reserve now amounts to about 7 and one-half per cent of the district budget, or about $100,000, according to Supt. Dennie B. Willis. Soderblom said the reserves should amount to at least 10 per cent of the budget.

The board authorized a new study of school site needs, with special emphasis on the area between Lucas Valley Road and Terra Linda. Preliminary plans for a special room at Bernard Hoffman School were approved.

The Vallecito brass choir and Vallecito woodwind quartet may travel to the California Music Educators' Assn. 1964 bay section music festival at Walnut Creek, the board decided. Twenty students will make the trip March 7.

Willis was authorized to hire part-time teachers for large classes, rather than creating new multi-graded classes.

The board approved a six-week summer workshop for district teachers, in cooperation with Sonoma State College, on condition at least 20 teachers sign up.

The board agreed to house five seventh grade classes, four sixth grades and one fifth grade at the Miller Creek School next year.

A special meeting was set for 9 a.m. Saturday at Rancho Rafael, Ignacio, to discuss with the staff procedures on evaluation and dismissal of certified personnel in accordance with new state laws.

Maternity leave was granted Mrs. Billie E. Bequette, kindergarten teacher at Lucas Valley School, effective March 20. The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lisa M. Black, kindergarten teacher at Santa Margarita School, now on leave.

More Loan Firm Probers Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The state wants to step up regulation of the growing savings and loan business.

Frederick Balderston, new savings and loan commissioner, asked an Assembly Ways and Means subcommittee yesterday for 16 new officials for a crash program of detecting unsound practices in the industry.

Balderston explained the Savings and Loan Division would give special examinations to firms making a large number of high risk loans or paying a higher interest rate than neighboring savings and loan associations.

Navy Asked Not To Set Bonfires

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Board, conceding it lacks power to crack down on the federal government, yesterday asked the Navy not to set another big bonfire at Treasure Island.

The district officials huddled with Navy commanders in response to a flurry of calls from citizens who saw smoke rise skyward and spread out from the base.

The Navy was conducting a fire control exercise at the same time a pile of "cull' lumber from bay bridge construction work was set afire on the island. Many thought there was a major blaze at the installation.

Dogs Bite Two Mill Valley Boys

Two Mill Valley boys were reported to have been bitten by dogs while riding their bicycles yesterday on Corte Madera Avenue.

Gino Cippolina, 9, of 312 Shady Lane, was bitten by a black and brown shaggy dog at about 3:47 p.m. on Corte Madera near Lower Alcatraz and was taken to the Mill Valley Fire Department for treatment. Mrs. George H. Turnbull reported her son, Rick, 11, was bitten on his left leg, bruising the skin, at 9:20 a.m. The Turnbulls live at 109 Eldridge Avenue.

Americans each use about 400 pounds of paper a year.

JACK M. PHILLIPS
No reason is given

San Rafael Chamber Aide Quits

Jack M. Phillips, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce since Oct. 1, 1962, has resigned.

Phillips gave no reason for his resignation, which became effective after a meeting of chamber directors Tuesday.

He said he is open to proposals and would welcome a job involving promotion, selling or personnel work.

Phillips was manager of the chamber of commerce in Worland, Wyo., before he came to San Rafael to succeed George Krusz.

Robert W. F. Severin, chamber president, said the directors have not yet selected a new manager, but have started the recruiting process.

Directors are proceeding with plans for the San Rafael Mardi Gras in late September which has been backed by the downtown merchants committee of the chamber, Severin reported.

Gallinas Board To Discuss Sewer Offer

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services Distric tonight will discuss a $19,000 grant for work on sewer facilities offered by the federal government. The board will try to learn whether annexation of the area to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District would make the community services district ineligible for the money.

Also at the 8 p.m. meeting at John MacPhail School, the board is scheduled to act to consolidate the coming election of directors with the June 2 primary.

Richardson Sanitary Annexation Approved

A proposed annexation of tidelots between the Salt Works Canal and Strawberry Point and between the point and the Saucelito Canal was reluctantly approved today for the Richardson Bay Sanitary District by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

District engineer J. Warren Nute said the district was not enthusiastic about annexing any tidelands, because of the difficulty of providing sewer service. He said a complete engineering plan should be submitted first. But commissioners were more worried about the fact that much tideland on the west side of the peninsula would be left out.

The request for annexation of 68.22 acres was made by Milland Development Co.

The commission requested that the board of supervisors direct the county building inspector to refuse building permits to lots outside sanitary districts where septic tanks are not approved. One case of such permit approval was cited.

The commission approved annexation of 36.26 acres of Peedlands Woods Unit 1 and Bel Aire School to the Richardson Bay Sanitary District.

Three annexations were approved for the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District: 15.08 acres of Terra Linda Unit 22, at Devon Drive and Wallace Way; 12.95 acres of Marinwood Oaks on Miller Creek Road near Las Gallinas Avenue, and 8.94 acres of Marinwood Country Estates, at Lucas Valley Road and Las Gallinas Avenue.

Annexation of 11.28 acres next to the Bel Aire School, Tiburon, was approved for the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District, as were 9.87 acres west of Novato High School to Novato Sanitary District and 11.28 acres in Paradise Cay to County Service Area No. 4 for lighting services.

Barren Red Rock Island In Mid-Bay Is Purchased

Red Rock Island, a barren mid-bay mound that Marin County assessment rolls show as owned by the United States Government, was reported sold today.

The tiny clump of 5.783 acres just south of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge is a juncture for Contra Costa, Marin and San Francisco counties, with each laying claim to a portion within its boundaries.

Marin County Asst. Assessor Herschel Johnson decribed the Marin portion as "a mere sliver —.087 of an acre," recorded as owned by the federal government, with no taxes paid on it.

The sale, however, was made to Alex E. Wilson, a San Francissco real estate man, and Christine Rogers to David M. Glickman, an attorney living in Tiburon. Wilson said he has owned the property for about 20 years, having inherited it from his father. He said he has 'been getting all kinds of tax bills on it."

The island was reported by Wilson as sold "for about $50,000." He said Glickman intends to slice off the top of it and build a clubhouse, restaurant and cocktail lounge. Glickman was not available for comment.

Several years ago Red Rock was proposed for a yacht harbor, boatel and recreation area by a group of investors. The major part of the island 4.114 acres—lies within Contra Costa County. San Francisco County has 1.582 acres.

On old charts it is referred to as "Treasure Island." It was once rumored that early Spanish navigators had cached a vast amount of gold and jewels on the rock.

The oldest French newspaper in the West, Courrier Francais des Etats-Unis, is published in San Francisco.

Actor's Wife Saved In Flop Of Kidnaping

NORTH HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An attempt by a handsome 21-year-old mechanic to extort $50,000 from veteran actor Leon Ames flopped yesterday after he had kidnaped Ames' wife, who was rescued unharmed by police seven blocks from her home after a four-hour ordeal.

Lynn Wayne Benner, appeared with a gun at Ames' front door at 8 a.m. and demanded the money on a threat to kill Ames' wife. Ames replied he did not have the money and the gunman demanded he summon Ames' partner in an auto agency, Ralph Williams.

When Williams arrived the gunmen demanded he get the money from a bank. The gunman held Ames, Mrs. Ames and Herbert Baumgarteker, 50, houseguest, at gunpoint while Williams was gone.

On Williams' return about 12:15 p.m. the gunman had Williams tie Ames' mouth, ankles and wrists, then locked Williams and Baumgarteker in the trunk of Ames' car.

He fled in Williams' car with Mrs. Ames at the wheel. Minutes later a police helicopter spotted the car and seven police cars moved in on it.

What the gunman did not know was that Williams had alerted police while getting the money.

A January thaw in Enw England is mentioned in literature as early as 1798.

Frost Speaks About 'George'

Donald R. Frost, director of the county's 135-man public works department, spoke at a dinner meeting of the Marin chapter of California Society of Professional Engineers last night.

Joseph Coons, president of the Marin chapter, presided at the meeting at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

Frost explained how "George," the county's 1401 computer, will be used to check subdivision maps for dimensional accuracy. He stressed, however, that department programmers must have a firm engineering background to properly direct "George" since the machine cannot pass the state engineering examinations as of now.

Winter Hot Stove League Closes On Triumphant Note At S.F. Event

Jack Hanley

On a triumphant note, the hot stove league closed its annual winter season the other night. More than 400 fans and a score of baseball greats helped put the lid on the stove.

The occasion was an awards dinner sponsored by the San Francisco Chapter of the Baseball Writers of America, an organization known in the trade as the BBWAA. The abbreviated trade title was adopted years ago by short-winded baseball writers who ran out of breath rattling off the formal handle of their outfit.

Warren Giles flew to the coast from Cincinnati for the dinner. The president of the National League said he had attended several other BBWAA chapter dinners during the winter but the gathering of baseball celebrities at the local dinner astounded him.

Now, this gracious observation naturally pleased local writers. However, they are realists enough to know the turnout was not due to their individual charm. It was a typical Northern California turnout. Even the baseball writers themselves, while members of the S.F. Chapter BBWAA, come from all sections.

A DELEGATION of 30 fans came by bus from Sacramento. San Jose was represented by two score baseball nuts. Hayward, Santa Rosa, San Rafael, Modesto, Fresno and way points sent sizeable bands of rooters.

All of this did not escape Horace Stoneham, who, after accepting an award from Giles, recalled the move of the Giants to the Golden Gate in '58.

"THERE WERE those in our organization who counseled against our move from the Polo Grounds," Stoneham said. "I did not share their fears but I must say that even my most optimistic hopes did not envision the support Northern California fans have given the Giants.

"I promise that our organization will continue to give you fans the best ballplayers we can get."

Then, Stoneham, who had flown from his winter home in Phoenix to attend the dinner, turned to the BBWAA chapter chairman and said: "I hope you do this again."

The chairman, Dick O'Connor, almost fell off his chair as he mumbled: "Not me." O'Connor was near a state of collapse from weeks of committee work but he brought in a winner and everybody likes a winner.

HIGH FLYING PUCK — San Francisco Seals defenseman Larry McNabb (2) reaches to bat down a wild flying puck as Seal goalie Bob Perreault sprawls after making a save in the first period of the game last night in the Cow Palace against the Portland Buckaroos. The Seals lost, 5-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Seals May Not Even Reach Playoffs

The defending Western Hockey League champion San Francisco Seals may not even reach the playoffs this time around.

With Seals owner Coley Hall and rink-side, San Francisco dropped a 5-3 decision to Portland to fall three points behind the fourth-place Bucks. Sixth place Vancouver is only three points behind the Seals.

Hall had flown to San Francisco from Canada to see if the squad should be shaken up following the Seals' seven straight losses on the road.

But San Francisco had won eight straight at home, too. That streak was snapped.

It was 1-1 after the first period when Art Jones of Portland and Ray Cyr of the Seals exchanged tallies.

Then Gerry Goyer and Jones hit scores in the second stanza to give Portland a lead it never lost.

In the final period, Mo Mantha and Gerry Brisson blinked the red light for San Francisco around goals by Dick Von Impe and Clay Stapleton of the Bucks.

Seals' goalie Bob Perreault stopped only 18 shots and did not have a good night. Portland's Dave Kelly blocked 28 as 4,963 watched the Cow Palace action.

Is Gillman Headed For Eagle Job?

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers are offering Coach Sid Gillman a new contract, perhaps to keep the Philadelphia Eagles from luring him away.

Gillman said yesterday he has talked to Philadelphia owner Jerry Wolman but would not say what they discussed. There were reports, unconfirmed, that Wolman offered to make Gillman general manager and coach and give him a five-year contract at more than $40,000 a year.

Gillman still has a year to go on a three-year contract with the Chargers, but club owner Barron Hilton confirmed yesterday that a new contract is being offered.

Some inferred from this that the Chargers are offering Gillman more money, and a long-term agreement, to keep him.

"I think Sid wants to stay in San Diego," Hilton said. "He has worked very hard in San Diego. I don't think he would want to leave for Philadelphia if we could work out a contract with him."

Hilton said he hopes to come to terms with Gillman "by next week or so."

Track Greats To Be Honored

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Six men will be inducted into the Northern California Track and Field Hall of Fame at the Golden Gate Invitational banquet tomorrow evening here.

They will include 440 greats Ben Eastman, Archie Williams and Grover Klemmer in addition to Bob Mathias, Flint Hanner and the late Harold Berlinger.

A host of current track greats, here for Saturday's Golden Gate indoor meet, will also attend. But perhaps the most honored guest of all won't be able to compete Saturday. The paralyzed former pole vault record holder, Brian Sternberg, is making the long trip from Washington to attend the dinner and the meet.

SHOWDOWN SATURDAY

Finley Defies Ultimatum; Faces Expulsion From A.L.

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Charles O. Finley, the angry owner of the Kansas City Athletics, called the American League's hand today on the ultimatum it dealt him exactly four weeks ago.

By failing to agree with the city yesterday on terms of a new lease for Municipal Stadium, Finley defied the league's order of Jan. 16 for him either to sign a lease here by Saturday or face expulsion from baseball.

So, unless either the city or Finley unexpectedly yields in the stalemate over a two-year or a four-year lease, the nine other owners who make up the league's membership have only two courses of action.

They can:

—Either take steps to kick Finley out of baseball and deprive him of ownership of the Athletics,

BACK DOWN?

—Or back down from their initial, unanimous stand and let him transfer the franchise.

No matter which course they choose, they face a battle in court.

When the league issued its directive on the lease, Finley said no one had the power to take the Athletics away from him. He said he would fight any attempt to do so. He continually has repeated that threat.

At the time the league ordered Finley to sign a lease here, it also rejected his request to move the Athletics to Louisville, Ky. Finley threatened to sue the league for that decision, too.

He had signed a contract with the state of Kentucky to move the Athletics to Louisville this year, if the league gave him permission. After the league turned him down on Louisville, he agreed with civic officials in Oakland, Calif., to move the team there this year. His agreement with Oakland also hinges on league approval.

Both agreements still exist. And officials in Kentucky have expressed the opinion that, if the Athletics do move, they must move to Louisville because that agreement was reached two weeks before the agreement in Oakland.

The American League has expressed interest in placing another franchise on the West Coast to complement the Los Angeles Angels. It is not interested in placing a franchise in Louisville.

Finley's meeting with city officials here yesterday was his fourth since Jan. 16. In those four meetings, he has made one proposal.

His proposed lease was for two years with the stipulation that it could be cancelled immediately upon league approval of a transfer. The city has insisted on at least a four-year lease with no escape clauses and has made three different proposals.

Both sides made it clear yesterday that they would not yield on their demands.

Torrid Warriors Take On Celtics

WILT CHAMBERLAIN
Key to success

The red-hot San Francisco Warriors shoot for their 10th consecutive Bay Area win tonight when they host the fearsome Boston Celtics.

The Warriors' biggest home crowd of the night is expected at the Cow Palace to see Wilt Chamberlain and Boston's Bill Russell renew their always-fascinating battle. Game time is 8:15.

San Francisco, winner of 17 out of last 23 outings, leads St. Louis by two games and Los Angeles by three. Boston is waltzing to the Eastern Division title.

Many think that the Celtic-Warrior battles tonight and Saturday will preview the NBA title series although Cincinnati in the east and St. Louis and Los Angeles in the west will be raring to go in the post-season playoffs.

Coach Alex Hannum threw a champagne press conference yesterday during which he said the team feels it can take it all.

"We don't panic any more when things are not going well," he pointed out. "We do seem to lack the killer instinct. We get an opponent on the run but don't usually pour it on."

Hannum lauded the play of big Wilt Chamberlain and stubby Guy Rodgers in the recent three-game road trip, which saw the Warriors win two.

KEY TO SUCCESS

The coach said that Chamberlain—still the key to the Warriors' success no matter who else hits how many points—has never been in a happier frame of mind. As if on cue, Chamberlain dropped in on the conference to echo his coach's sentiments.

Tom Gray, president of the Warriors, took advantage of the occasion to mention that "grousing" about the Warriors' attendance has not come from the management. He said that there were no plans of selling the franchise and the owners are "optimistic" about the Warriors' future in San Francisco.

Managing Director Eddie Gottlieb said that advance sales were up. He also revealed that the club was attempting to have some road games and playoff games televised this season.

Finals This Weekend In Women's Bowling

The final two days of the Marin County Woman's Bowling Assn. fourth annual championship tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday at Greenbrae Lanes.

There were 60 teams, 98 doubles squads, 196 singles competitors and 143 all-events participants in the opening of the tourney last weekend.

At the halfway mark, the "600-1" team was leading the team event of the handicap tournament with 2,830 pins. It was followed by The Mixed Five, 2,796; Monday Jets, 2,775; Northwestern Savings and Loan, 2,772, and Keaton's No. 1, 2,760.

Lois Schwab and Fran Vieites are leading the doubles with 1,197 pins, followed by Grace Mueller and Kay Ruggeri, 1,178; Fay Scott and Charlotte Warcup, 1,170; Barbara Ward and Sharon Miller, 1,167, and Mei Louie and Hana Theis, 1,166.

Charlotte Warcup is leading the singles with 652, trailed by Barbara Ward with 634, Charlotte Del Ponte with 630, Fay Scott with 629, and Eloise Simpson with 624.

Fay Scott is leading the all-event with 1,804, a commanding lead over Eloise Simpson with 1,716. Next are Elinor Davis, 1,714 and Florence Bobo, also 1,714 and Hana Theis with 1,702.

High scratch game so far in the tourney was rolled by Lois Schwab, a sparkling 242. High scratch series was a 604 rolled by Elinor Davis.

Western Loop Won't Drop Vancouver Club

SEATTLE (UPI) — Western Hockey League President Al Leader has firmly denied reports the league plans to drop Vancouver if the WHL moves up to major league status in the next few years.

An earlier report had quoted leader as saying the Vancouver Canucks would be dropped from the league in favor of San Diego, Calif.

"We are not thinking of eliminating Vancouver," leader said.

Novato Coach Says He Was Misquoted

John Panagakis, head basketball coach for Novato High School, claimed today his quote in yesterday's Independent-Journal within the story about Novato's victory over San Rafael High School was incorrect.

The story quoted him as saying, "I'm prejudiced, of course, but I think we'd have beaten them if their (San Rafael's) good kids played the whole game."

Today he said, "I might have said that in the excitement after the game but I don't think I did. I know I could not predict the outcome if San Rafael's first string had been playing. When we had to go against their second club and win in the last 30 seconds it shows how strong they (San Rafael's team) really are."

Panagakis praised the play of San Rafael's Rod Monti who scored 16 points in the first quarter and one-half before he twisted an ankle and had to leave the ball game.

San Rafael, playing without its two top scorers, Monti and John McKinnon, both taken out of the game because of injuries, lost its first league game of the year when Novato downed the Bulldogs, 52-46.

Signs Fail; Richardson Bay Should Have Stripers During Herring Run

STEVENS

Signs sometime fail. Ordinarily when the herring start spawning along the Marin shore, the Sausalito shore area and Richardson Bay are scenes of fast and furious action with greedy bass below the surface and the equally greedy gulls in the air above. But at present, with the waters teeming with the little herring, the striper strivers are meeting with little or no success. Reason probably is that the aforesaid striped bass have vacated the locale in favor of newer fields—namely the San Pablo Bay and points east and south. Lots of herring hunters are reaping a harvest of herring, but not bass, along the Sausalito shore.

SO, THOSE who want to fish, set your sights on the San Pablo Bay sector. Still good action to be had all the way from just above the Brothers and Sisters to the Carquinez Bridge with the lower and middle areas yielding the most fish. Off China Camp, out of Santa Venetia, Crockett and Rodeo, as well as from the Richmond Harbor, reports have it that the bass action is still remarkable. Perhaps not quite so many easy limits, but some hefty specimens have come in every day. With the afternoon tides being a bit less strong over the weekend, prospects look mighty good for limits or near limits to the majority.

"Go Greyhound—and leave the driving to us!" is a well known slogan we hear often while watching television. There is one bus driver that would paraphrase that slogan to — "Leave the driving to others, but leave the fishing to me on my off days."

Bus driver Peter Jacobsen of Novato has strived mightily for the past 10 years, but only last Sunday, while fishing out of China Camp, did he get his limit of stripers. Heaps of congratulation to that charioteer.

SPEAKING of congratulations here are a few more. To Sam Bass and Roy Tarvin of South County for a pair of limits weighing from 14 to 17½ pounds, taken Monday near Buoy 8 on bullheads; to Ed Hopper, Harold Gavelo and Dick Payne for their Sunday Catch of big bass in the buoy 8 area, Sunday, with special mention of Dick who landed one 13-pounder and one of 19 pounds on Sunday. Earl Hastings boated a 10 and a 17 in the same area on Sunday while John Marino was top rod with a 20¼-pounder, and Stan Wright came through with a 17-pounder. All the above taken on bullheads. Seems like the lads working from Paynes' San Lorenzo Bait Shop have gotten the knack of bullhead fishing.

The family Doi had the good luck of netting five limits of bass from 10 to 25 pounds near the close of the day, Sunday, but had the misfortune of not knowing it is legal to take salmon, but, unless you have present. Carl Bennett who reported the Doi catch informed that two nice salmon were taken and released. Party boats from both Rodeo Marina and Crockett have done a fair job of fishing the past few days. Not limits but better than a fish-and-a-half per rod. Medium on sardines; larger fish on bullheads.

SATURDAY is the season opener outside the Gate for salman, but, unless you have reservations already, chances are you will be unable to reserve a seat. Apparently all the well known salmon boats are filled up. Some vacancies for Sunday, however. If interested, better get in touch pronto. Reports have it that several good sized schools of salmon are lurking close to shore north of the Gate. With calm seas, it should be a very successful opening.

One last congratulation — to Dwight Parks for the 46-pound striper taken in Sherman Lake, Sunday. Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

10% Over Cost

True cost . . . not cost plus commission, make-ready, overhead, etc., etc.

Quite a number of people responded to our offer last week to sell any new 1964 Ford car or truck in our stock of about 200 for only 10% over our exact factory cost. But, some were skeptical, and for good reason . . . they'd been deluged with so-called "cost" sales by many car dealers and couldn't believe the Ames Ford offer was, indeed, bonafide. So Today, Friday, and Saturday, we are repeating this sale. Ask our salesman to show you our factory invoice—he'll be glad to. Then . . . add 10% to our cost, and that is your price.

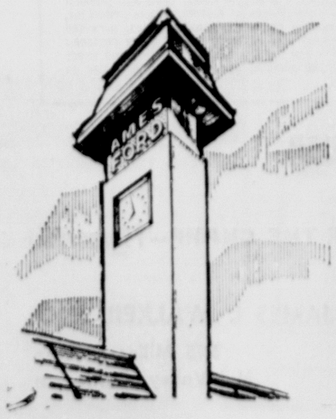

If our selling pace continues, Lou and his Mrs. will be assured of their trip to New York, London, and Paris, and our Sales-manager, Zim, might be in this predicament while his Mrs. shops in Mexico City.

★ AND ★

Enough non-skeptics bought brand new 1964 Fords last weekend for 10% over our cost that we have a lot-full of fine trade-ins. Check them out on our lot . . . the brightest in Marin.

Boat Registration Is Only Once Every 3 Years, Thank Goodness

What boat owner would appreciate the double shock of having to re-register his boat every year—as well as his car? Lachland M. Richards, Chief, Division of Small Craft Harbors for the state says boat owners will not have to renew their registrations in either 1964 or 1965, provided their boats were properly registered in 1963. Under the California boating law regarding this, registration is good for a period of three years, and does not follow the one-year pattern for automobiles.

Isn't that nice.

BECAUSE, just breath away from the Christmas splurge, comes automobile license time. Many car owners justify stalling by saying, "That gang isn't going to make some interest on my money. I'll get my '64 license when their clock is ready to bong, and not a second sooner." Unfortunately, this type of precision timing is hard to accomplish . . . so next year allow at least a three minute leeway, in case you trip.

Do you buy your license weeks ahead of time? Then there are certain hazards for you to avoid. You could be driving along, obeying the law in every respect. Behind you, a siren raises your scalp. Who's in trouble? you wonder.

"You are, sir," says the highway patrolman. Just where is your 1964 license tab? The most widely used face-saving bit, at this point, is to thump your forehead, look appalled and say, "Forevermore. How do you suppose I forgot THAT? I do have it, you know. It's . . . uh . . . home someplace . . ."

AND YOU hunt, and hunt, and search from attic to basement, until your pad takes on the appearance of a slovenly eagle's nest Why isn't the thing in your socks-and-handkerchief drawer where it belongs. Right there, under the paper lining where you keep your fishing license, sweepstakes ticket — and office jokes. But it isn't.

"I found it dear," calls out your wife. Where did she find it? Way, way down in the bottom of her purse . . . kinda all mixed up with a July PG&E receipt, a dental appointment (circa, 1961), and melted chocolate Ex-Lax.

This tragedy could happen to a boat license also. So Richards cautions and points out that 29 such violations were reported by local courts in December, 1963. He again stresses the requirement that every boat moored on the waters of the State must be numbered, and have a blue renewal sticker affixed.

THE MARIN Power Squadron starts a new Piloting Class tonight, in the Art Building, College of Marin. Time is 7:30. Sail, as well as power boaters, are welcome to join the class and learn about piloting, seamanship and small boat handling. The course is FREE. It runs 14 weeks, and is remarkably comprehensive in nature. It's well to remember that basic principles apply to sail boats as well as power craft. This is the place for mariners to improve their knowledge, self-confidence — and boat handling skill. There is time to learn a lot in time for a good season.

COMPARISON of third quarters of 1963 and 1962 makes it clear that boat dealers experienced a 53 per cent increase. It's interesting — also significent, to note that no other business listed in the I-J Advance Report on retail store taxable sales for that period, has come close, with the exception of lumber and related building supplies.

SAN RAFAEL Yacht Club members are planning a gala evening Saturday. Valentine motivated, it will include a fine chicken dinner with all the trimmings. Time 7:30. Dancing comes later.

Sternberg To Attend S.F. Meet, First Since Accident

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Brian Sternberg comes to San Francisco tomorrow for his first track meet since he was paralyzed in a trampoline accident last summer.

The young University of Washington pole vaulter, who climbed to a world record 16-8 before his tragic fall, will watch the indoor Golden Gate Invitational Saturday from his wheel chair.

He'll arrive by plane Friday afternoon from Seattle and will be honored Friday evening at a public banquet of the Northern California Track and Field Association at the Cabana, Palo Alto.

At the meet he'll watch the Brian Sternberg Pola Vault—and annual event in his name which features four 16-foot vaulters in this year's inaugural.

Scooter Rider Injured; Hub Driver Held

A 52-year-old San Anselmo man was booked by the California Highway Patrol Tuesday night on a felony hit-and-run charge accident on Puerto Suello Hill at 9:25 p.m. which resulted in injuries to a motor scooter rider.

Garret Lawrence Colloty of 8 Meadowcroft Drive was driving south on Highway 101 near Merrydale Road when his car struck the rear of an auto being driven by Edward John Little, 39, of 625 Montecillo Road, Terra Linda, the highway patrol reported.

Little's car spun out on the highway and struck a Vespa motor scooter being driven by Patrick Michael Carr, 22, of Daly City. Carr was thrown to the pavement. He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts on his left elbow.

Colloty, according to Sgt. James Dukes of the highway patrol left the scene of the accident. He was picked up in downtown San Rafael a few minutes later by San Rafael police officer Gilbert Freitas.

James L. Wilson, 70, of 104 Shaver Street, San Rafael, was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital after suffering cuts on his forehead and arms when his car ran off Shoreline Highway, four miles north of Point Reyes Station, Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Wilson, northbound on Shoreline, drove his car 12 feet off the roadway into a fence, according to the highway patrol.

Victor Dyke McMillan, 36, of 9 Brookside Court, San Anselmo, was treated for bruises on his left ankle Tuesday night at Marin General Hospital after the car he was driving failed to make a curve on the Alto Hill at 7:01 p.m.

McMillan was northbound on Highway 101, 150 feet south of the Corte Madera city limits, when his car left the road and knocked down a highway sign, the highway patrol said.

Enchanted Knoll Plan Is Denied

Mill Valley planning commissioners Tuesday night denied developer Gene Harter a variance to permit a 30-acre planned unit development on Enchanted Knolls.

Commissioners felt Harter must submit a master plan for the entire 96 acres, which is all in one ownership, or make a separate request under conventional zoning.

Several property owners questioned the proposed building of a two-story office building over the creek on Locust Avenue between Sycamore and Miller avenues, saying they want to be sure their residential property is protected. No action was taken pending a meeting of the city engineer with property owners.

The commission granted Lloyd L. Seitzinger a variance to permit four parking spaces instead of the required four and one-half for a duplex at 20 Millwood Street, the subject of much controversy, and approved a plan for screening and bumper stripping on the south side of the duplex.

It was recommended to city council that an applicant who asks for an additional review of plans be made to pay the same $35 fee as he paid for the initial review.

The commission, which met until 1 a.m. yesterday, approved revised plans for Food King Market at Miller and La Goma avenues to include a wooden canopy on the south side of the building, subject to architectural advisory commission accord.

Marin City Report

The Marin City Community Services District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Lounge to hear a report on the proposed plan for a combined education, recreation, culture and group social work project, John A. Thomson, secretary, said today.

Permit Voted For Rose Bowl Area Apartments

The Larkspur Planning Commission Tuesday night granted a use permit to contractor Richard D. Peters of Mill Valley to build 12 apartment units on property which formerly housed the Rose Bowl on Cane Street.

A condition of the sale of the property by the Larkspur Assn. of Volunteer Firemen to Peters was the granting of the use permit.

The commission pointed out that any development of the property would have to take into account that the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way behind it was planned eventually for a street.

Architectural approval of 108 apartment units planned for the Larkspur Plaza was continued to Feb. 25 because of an inaccurate description of parking facilities, lack of parking spaces for boat trailers which would use launching facilities, no playgrounds for children, and a six-foot distance between apartments.

The commission gave architectural approval to Lage Anderson to build 14 apartment units at Via Cassitas and Eliseo Drive.

TV Carried Off

Portable television sets are really portable, Raymond H. Anderson of 575 Norman Drive, Novato, yesterday reported to Novato police. Anderson, who owns Andy's TV at 7368 Redwood Highway, said someone shoplifted an $85 portable set about noon Tuesday.

Approach all crossroads with caution, advises the National Automobile Club.

'The Bride Looked Exquisite In Her White Rental Gown . . .'

One of a series of articles on Marin's working women.

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Here's good news indeed for fathers of brides-to-be.

A gown rental service is now available which may help to avoid the necessity of taking out a second mortgage on the suburban split-level to pay for daughter's wedding.

The propietor of this gown service is Mrs. James Dwyer of Sausalito, who started her business both as an accident and a result of public demand.

A former Fanchon and Marco dancer in Hollywood, she and many others like her were left without means of earning a living when the depression hit. With $50 she started a costume rental business and also took up the study of costume design.

By World War II she had a thriving costume house business in San Francisco with contracts for costumes needed by all the Chinese night clubs in the city.

THEN ONE DAY it happened.

Walking through a San Francisco department store, she almost tripped over the train of a wedding gown. As she stooped to pick it up, the saleswoman said, "Why don't you buy it? You could make a beautiful negligee of it."

"What does it cost?" Mrs. Dwyer asked. "Three dollars," was the reply. "It's on sale because it's shop soiled."

"I'll just do that," said Mrs. Dwyer.

She took it back to her shop and told Ray, her designer, "When you have some spare time, make me a negligee out of this.

"Well, one day Ray came to me and said, 'I hope you'll forgive me—I rented your negligee. Was I shocked! But after that I thought, this is too good to be a negligee.

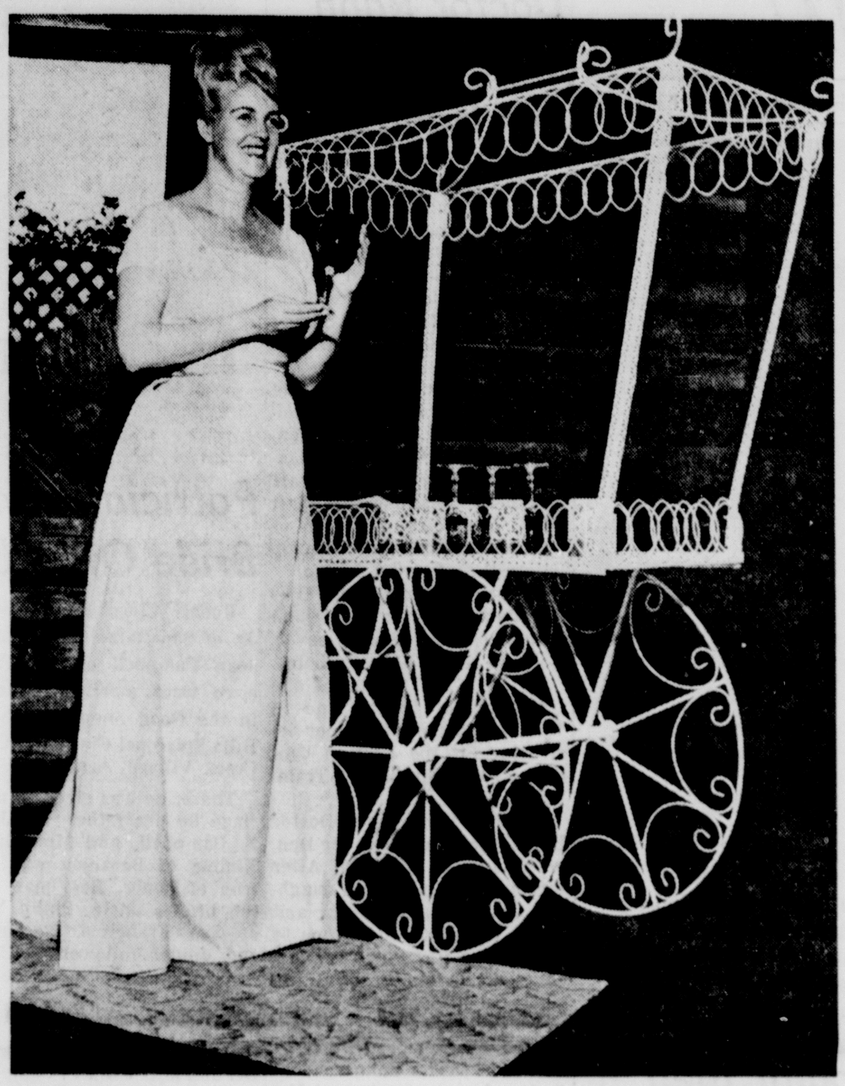

"SO WE BEGAN renting it as a wedding gown and actually made $200 off that dress. Finally it began to get pretty wilt-

READY FOR a gay nineties party in a red and black Floradora dress is Diane Oliver of San Rafael with Mrs. James Dwyer, whose costume rental service started with such rentals.

WEARING A PINK chiffon over pink taffeta evening gown in a style becoming to and popular with the mature woman is Mrs. Jean Hill, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Dwyer. Renting formal gowns for women who need them for club affairs and even the opera is one of Mrs. Dwyer's newest projects.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE — In a rented wedding gown, and who's the wiser? Looking as radiant as though she were really preparing to walk down the aisle on the arm of a happy father is Francie Forrest. Francie is the cousin of Mrs. James Dwyer of Sausalito, who has a selection of 200 wedding gowns for rent.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Three Birthdays Celebrated At Kent Woodlands Luncheon

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. George Schirmer entertained at a luncheon last week honoring three friends, who were celebrating their birthdays. The trio included Mrs. John (Marcella) Campion, Mrs. Newton (Erna) Longfellow and Mrs. Harrison (Florence) Leppo. The luncheon table was set for 12.

The Schirmers have sold their Kent Woodlands home and will move to an apartment on Nob Hill in San Francisco in May. The house and the beautifully landscaped property has been bought by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Crane, who have four children. The Cranes have put their Kent Wodlands house on the real estate market.

THE CONDITION of Fritz Pfeffer, who underwent surgery at San Rafael General Hospital Sunday, is much improved. However, he is not allowed to receive visitors, except members of his family.

THE TAPPENDORFFS have sold their Victorian - styled house on Palm Avenue, San Rafael, the former Mee home, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Castanso, who with their four children, ranging in age from one year to eight, have been living in Sleepy Hollow. The Tappendorffs will move to their three-bedroom, two-bath apartment in the Cote d'Azur the first of March. With them will be Jack's father, J. A. Tappendorff, who has lived in Mill Valley for many years. Jack and Marie will also be closer to her son, Raynor Whiting, and his wife, who reside in Mill Valley.

Jack, regional manager for a division of Hupp Corporation, will not only be closer to his San Francisco office but will have more time for vocal studies (he has a gorgeous voice) and will also indulge in his favorite sport, golf. Marie will have more time, too, for The Cedars Development School in Ross, which she owns. The school is expanding and recently 20 acres were bought near Sunny Hills in San Anselmo. This will be a recreational area for the retarded children at The Cedars. Forty-eight people are employed at the school, including teachers and house mothers. There are 75 boarders at the school and 20 day pupils.

IT WILL BE A FAMILY affair soon at the Cote d'Azur Apartments in Sausalito when Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Daniels and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John (Jack) Tappendorff Jr., move there soon. Doctor and Mrs. Daniels have sold their old home at 1 Allen Lane in Ross to Dr. and Mrs. Justin Williams, who have a son, Lowell. Doctor and Mrs. Daniels have lived 25 years on the two-acre estate in Ross, first in the old Armsby home and for the past 17 years in the house they built. They will be in the Cote d'Azur February 18. Doctor and Mrs. Daniels' daughters are grown and two of them are married. Their daughter, Mrs. William Glaser (Toddy), lives in New York. Mrs. Harlan Epps (Roddy) is completing studies for a doctor's degree in social psychology at University of Wisconsin, where her husband will receive a doctor's degree in physics in June. After that the young couple will return to California and Doctor and Mrs. Daniels hope they will make their home in the Bay Area.

The Daniels' daughter, Susan, who is working for a master's degree in biology at San Francisco State College, has an apartment in San Francisco and spends most weekends with her parents.

Doctor and Mrs. Williams have been living in Kentfield. They have as their houseguest until spring her mother, Mrs. J. R. Seckman of Clarksburg, West Virginia. Lowell, 4, goes to Woodside Nursery School in Ross.

MRS. JOY HURST, formerly of San Francisco, where she was a realtor, is a new resident of Marin County. Mrs. Hurst has joined the Crowley Company as a sales associate in the Reedlands and Paradise Cay developments. She lives at 31 H Pelican Hill Apartments on Tiburon.

Air Becomes Arid Inside The House

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The THI, temperature-humidity index, reading in summer weather reports has become familiar to most Americans as an indication of how comfortable—or uncomfortable — they'll find the weather outside.

The humidity - temperature relationship is the key to comfort in cold weather, too. But don't be fooled by the weather reports. Even though the weatherman says the relative humidity is high, he's talking about the cold outside air. Inside the house, the humidity can be uncomfortably lower. It works this way:

Suppose outdoor temperature is zero and relative humidity 100 per cent. Science tells us that, at this temperature, 10,000 cubic feet of air (an average houseful) can hold less than a pint of water.

Bring that amount of saturated zero-degree air inside and heat it to 72 degrees, however, and it becomes capable of holding 1½ gallons of water. Because of this increased capacity to hold water when heated, unless moisture is added to cold outside air, relative humidity will drop to an arid 6 per cent indoors.

ed and ended up as a costume —once in a mock Mormon wedding and another time as a dress for a Catholic procession."

Frances Dwyer never did get her negligee, but this was the beginning of her bridal rental service because she continued to get a great many calls from the public wanting to rent wedding gowns.

SHE NOW HAS a stock of more than 200 wedding gowns in sizes from 6 to 24 in a wide variety of styles, with some bought directly from big name bridal houses.

Furthermore, she has a huge selection of 400 bridal attendants' gowns in all colors and sizes from 6 to 22, as well as costumes for ring bearers and flower girls. She and her staff make all of their own costumes, sometimes making one to match a series or in a different size.

"I can outfit a wedding on a day's notice," she explained," which is sometimes necessary when ordered gowns don't arrive or a couple suddenly decides to get married."

She also carries dresses suitable for prom formals in sizes 7 to 22.

ONE OF HER NEWEST project is stocking formals for the older woman who needs them for club affairs and installations.

There are many women who don't want to buy a formal just for one occasion," she said, "and, of course, my service makes possible wearing a different gown for each occasion. You'd be surprised how many women want gowns for the opera."

Though she no longer outfits night club performers, Frances Dwyer has retained her original business of renting costumes for all occasions.

"WE SPECIALIZE in gay 90s," she said, "but right now the most popular are Roman costumes for parties inspired by the movie 'Cleopatra.'"

Lu Sutton P-TA Founders Day Planned Tonight

Founders day will be celebrated by the Lu Sutton School Parent-Teacher Assn. in Novato at 7:30 tonight. John Laycock, principal, will present an honorary life membership in the P-TA to a person in the community who has given service to children.

Doctor Rahn Will Address For Hadassah

Dr. Lilli Rahn, national Hadassah leader, will be the speaker at the Marin Chapter, Hadassah, luncheon on Feb. 18 at the Marin Jewish Community Center, San Rafael.

The noon luncheon will be hostessed by Mesdames Sidney Rudy, David Resnick and M. J. Simpson.

Doctor Rahn, educated at the Universities of Berlin, Freiburg, Vienna and Erlangen, where she majored in languages, history, history of art and theater, was one of the last Jews to receive a doctor of philosophy degree in Germany before the advent of Hitler.

In the summer of 1939, Doctor Rahn, her husband and daughter, motored into Denver, Colo., in search of a new home.

In 1941 she taught at the University of Denver and in 1943 was appointed senior instructor for the Ferman Unit of the Army Specialized Training Program.

During that time Doctor Rahn became active in the Denver Chapter of Hadassah. After the birth of her second daughter, she gave up teaching and began to devote more time to Hadassah work. She was elected regional American affairs chairman in 1950 and became president of the Mountain Plain Region.

In 1954 Doctor Rahn was sent to Israel as a member of Hadassah's first leadership tour. In 1959 Doctor Rahn led a tour of Hadassah leaders to Israel and recently revisited the country as part of a Hadassah sponsored around-the-world-tour.

'Fit Square Peg In Square Hole' Word Of Advice To Volunteers

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The volunteer worker, as much a part of Americana as the split-level house and the income tax, should choose the agency to whom she will give of her time as carefully as the salaried woman selects her career.

So advises one woman who is the administrative officer of the volunteer program for one leading New York agency.

"The effective volunteer is not the one who thinks, 'Well, I should be doing something for others,' and holds her nose to do it," said Mrs. Sidney E. Pollack. "A volunteer should feel that each day she is contributing."

"THE MOST IMPORTANT thing in becoming a volunteer is to fit the square peg into the square hole. . . . Choose a volunteer job not only because there is a need, but in light of what you feel qualified to do and whether you can carry it to fruition," she said.

Mrs. Pollack is not a volunteer. She for 30 years has been part of the professional staff of the New York Jewish Guild for the Blind, a non-sectarian group now in its 50th year of offering aid to all who have sight handicaps.

"Our culture," she said of her job, "has absorbed the fact that there are those of us who devote our lives and make our living in social service. And there are those who can offer only part of their lives.

"Both are necessary," she said. "Our volunteers include our fund-raisers. Our board is made up of volunteers.

"The volunteer is a breath of fresh air to us. We professionals often get so meshed in our own problems. . . ."

Mrs. Pollack said volunteer programs in most agencies these days are run on a professional basis—volunteers are interviewed for a sizing up on where they might best fit. They're trained for their roles, if such is necessary as it is for instance in the guild's Braille reading program.

MRS. POLLACK LISTED these tips for the effective volunteer, no matter what agency, she said.

—Never volunteer on a sporadic basis. Determine in advance how much time you can give and then stick to it. Regularity and dependability are tops with every agency using volunteers. It is imperative to notify your superior if you must be absent.

—Be not only willing but happy to perform any job you are given, to accept instructions, to follow directions, be flexible, and cooperative in all your dealings with staff members, other volunteers and those you serve.

—Always observe time, supplies and facilities. No personal calls, no pencils or other similar items carried home in handbag through carelessness, no other oversight which can so easily undermine the finances of the group you serve.

—REFRAIN FROM becoming emotionally involved with the problems of those you serve. Do not encourage confidences, but if someone insists, share this information only with the professional staff member directly involved. Never loan money; refer the person to the professional personnel in the organization.

—Whenever you are in doubt, consult your staff adviser. Helping people with physical or emotional problems is highly complex. Good will and good judgment are most valuable and sharing perplexities with the staff can only help you and the person you are trying to serve.

—YOUR APPEARANCE also counts. "I notice that pride in appearance usually means pride in performance too," said Mrs. Pollack.

'EUROPE, HERE WE COME'

Terra Linda Is Sending Two Exchange Students

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Two 16-year-old juniors at Terra Linda High School, both enthusiastic about travel, athletics and social studies, are making plans for a European summer as exchange students with the Experiment in International Living.

Robin Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Blake, 5 Mount Hood Court, Lucas Valley, will spend three months with a family in the Netherlands.

Daniel DeKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. DeKay, 14 Oakview Drive, Los Ranchitos, will go to France. DeKay already speaks French. He learned the language partly because his family was host last year to an exchange student from Turkey, who spoke French and helped teach the entire family.

The two students were selected from among four finalists from the high school in a national competition based on an essay and interviews. Each will receive $500 from the national organization, expected to pay about a third of the expenses.

The two will first go to Vermont for a short organization and training session, and probably will find out then the names of the families with whom they will stay in Europe.

Miss Blake, who is president of the Terra Linda High School Spanish Club, originally asked to go to a Spanish-speaking country but was told she could not because of an age restriction. She then chose the Netherlands because two of her grandparents came from there.

She is a member of the California Scholarship Federation, Student Council, Associated Girl Students' executive board, and modern dance group. She hopes some day to work in the foreign service for the State Department.

She has traveled much of her life, having lived in Texas, Missouri, Florida and Southern California before moving to Marin County a year ago. She has also traveled in Mexico.

She is the oldest child in her family and has a brother and two sisters.

DeKay, school yell leader, has lettered in football, track and cross-country running at the high school. He has been a member of the student council and class council and is active in the International Club.

His French teacher first interested him in France, he says, but the year living with another foreign exchange student was most important in deciding to try for the trip to Europe.

"It was a great experience," DeKay said. "I saw how he benefitted from the program."

Two other students have been selected as alternates for the program. They are Cornelia Nixon, 642 Appleberry Drive, Lucas Valley, and Frederick Lockett, 8 Circle Road, Los Ranchitos.

Amateur Radio Club To Elect Officers

Marin Amateur Radio Club will elect officers at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Painters Hall, 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Plans for a joint meeting with the Petaluma Radio Club and procedures for a simulated emergency test to check communication facilities of the club will be discussed, according to Hugh Cassidy, president.

Sweet Timber Mill Is Sold At Auction

Within about 10 days, the saw mill and other equipment of the once-active Sweet Timber Co. south of Olema will be gone.

All equipment was auctioned during a three-hour sale Tuesday by the Milton J. Wershow Co. of Los Angeles. Prior to the sale, the firm estimated value of the equipment, including the mill, a lumber truck and large crane, at $240,000.

Donald Smith, bookkeepper for the auction company, would not reveal today what the auction net totaled or whether it was above or below the estimated value.

There were about 75 buyers present, mostly from Oregon. All equipment must be removed by Feb. 21.

Sweet Timber Co. closed when the federal government acquired its timber rights in the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Art Work Praised

The moon is new. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1635, the Boston Latin School, oldest public school in America, was established in Boston.

In 1867, Johann Strauss (the younger) conducted "The Blue Danube Waltz" publicly for the first time at a concert in Vienna.

In 1942, Russian trucks managed to break the German blockade of Leningrad, entering the city with stores of bread for the hungry residents.

In 1945, the Hungarian city of Budapest fell to Russian soldiers after 49 days of street fighting that cost the Germans more than 50,000 killed and 133,000 captured.

A thought for the day: American humorist James Thurber once said: "You might as well fall flat on your face as lean over too far backward."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Frying Pans Are Bad But Fires Are Worse When Playing Bridge

It is well known that bad bridge players eat more than good bridge players, but sometimes you wonder where they get eating money.

A bad player can throw away close to a thousand points on a single hand, and even at one peanut per point that comes to a lot of peanuts.

Double	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ 4

Declarer took the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and led a club to knock out the ace. East returned a spade to West's queen, and West gave dummy a club trick.

TRIES SPADES

Declarer tried another round of spades, and West led a third spade so that East could overruff dummy with the nine of diamonds.

East cashed the king of hearts, gave his partner a club ruff, and ruffed another spade, this time with the king of diamonds.

By this time South was down to trumps. When East led another club, South ruffed with the queen of diamonds and West discarded. Now West was sure to make two more trump tricks, and South was down five for a loss of 900 points.

FOOLISH RESCUE

South's rescue bid of three diamonds was very foolish, but a surprising number of bad players would make this move in actual play. The theory is that two hearts has already been doubled and that perhaps three diamonds will somehow not get doubled.

South might be forgiven for running if he had a singleton heart and six or more cards of his own suit.

With two hearts, however, South should reflect that a man who jumps out of the frying pan into the fire needs very good air-conditioning.

OUT OF MISERY

Mind you, North wouldn't make two hearts doubled, but he might not have to. West might very well bid two spades, and then North-South would be out of their misery.

Incidentally, if you're wondering why bad bridge players eat more than good bridge players, remember that there are about 40 million bad players and perhaps a few thousand good players.

Which group would you expect to eat more?

QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♥ A Q 10 9 8 3

♣ K Q J

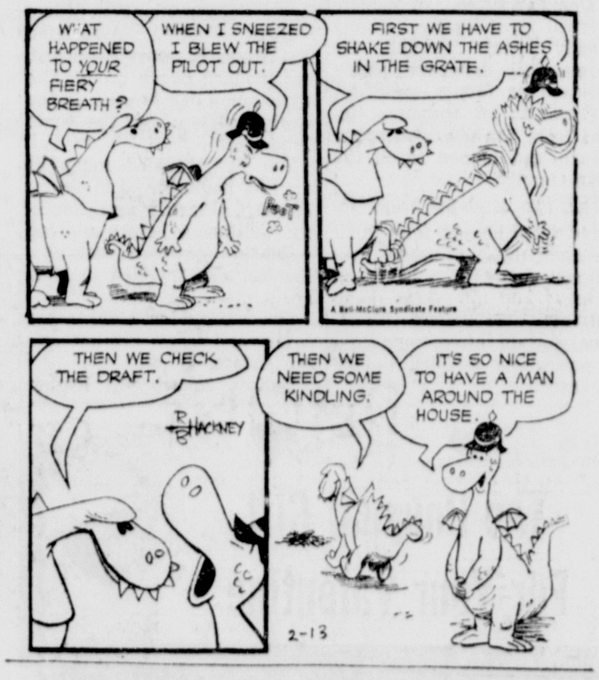

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart.

There is far less danger of being doubled for penalties when you open the bidding than when you overcall.

Reds Suspected In Recent Revolts By African Troops

Upheavals In Kenya, Tanganyika And Uganda Are Closely Studied

By HENRY REUTER

NAIROBI (WPS) — Speculation is rife her in East Africa that the recent army revolts in Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda—following the military coup in Zanzibar—are symptomatic of a new and more desperate Communist approach to winning the new African nations.

The disturbances have come at a time when the emerging nations of Eastern and Central Africa seem determined to pursue a line of "positive neutrality" between the world's power blocs—evidence that the more subtle Communist tactics practiced during the past five years have failed.

Hitherto the Communist assault has been three-pronged: political, economic and educational.

On the political front, East Africa is bombarded nightly with Communist radio propaganda from Cairo and Peking. China was off to a late start in the battle for East Africa but is rapidly overtaking its Russian competitors. Peking's transmitter, reputed to be the world's most powerful, comes over loud and clear here in East Africa. Its programs are in Swahili and English and are blatant propaganda.

Radio Cairo gears its broadcasts to local conditions; uses East Africans as announcers; and is widely heard, particularly at the coast.

Radio Moscow also beams programs to East Africa but little interest in them is evidenced.

In the field of education it is estimated that nearly 1,000 students were smuggled out of East Africa to Communist countries by Kenya's present Home Affairs Minister, Oginga Odinga, before restrictions on such scholarships were lifted in mid-1963 when Kenya obtained internal self-government. Since then hundreds of scholars, trade unionists and minor politicians from all over East Africa have been sent to communist countries.

It is known that since Tanganyika became independent, the Russians have awarded nearly 600 scholarships to Tanganyikans, while Peking has given another 100.

In recent years there has also been a Communist attack on the labor front, with consistent attempts to influence trade unions to disaffiliate federation of Free Trade Unions in favor of the Communist-backed World Federation of Trade Unions or the All-African Trade Union Federation which has its headquarters in Ghana and has links with the WFTU.

The reason these assaults are believed to have had little effect is that they have not been accompanied by solid financial aid to African governments, which Africa probably understands better than anything else.

Instead, both Red China and Russia have been pouring money into the pockets of influential Africans. It is known that this totalled more than $280,000 from 1960 to 1963.

One alleged Kenyan recipient was Omolo Agar. In November, 1960, the Kenya Defense Ministry uncovered a Communist plot to organize an army rebellion and the police arrested the Indian-trained Agar. In his mattress were found instructions on how to form Communist cells and military centers, Communist literature, and copies of letters to Chinese leaders.

Last year a Tanganyika member of Parliament asked his government to specify how much money the East and the West had given Tanganyika in long-term financial aid since independence. The answer was that the West had given 8.4 million dollars. The Communists had given nothing.

When Tanganyika was host to the Afro-Asian conference at Moshi in February, 1963, the session was packed with Communists. But after hours of their openly propagandizing speeches, East African delegates complained that there was too much speechmaking and too little action.

Tanganyika's Prime Minister Julius Nyerere then set the tone for what has since become the general East African attitude to Communism when he said it was not only the European colonists who were out to exploit Africa. "As we are emerging successfully from the first scramble for Africa so we are entering a new phase—the phase of the second scramble for Africa."

Thus, after years of subtle Communist endeavor, attempts at infiltration have made little headway with Africa's masses. But the possibility that recent events in East Africa have been deliberately engineered by the Communists, and represent the start of a more determined, more active and more violent approach, is causing considerable concern to East Africa's new leaders.

Pianists Plan Journey For Minors

Pianists Sister Mary Dominic., O. P. and Elinor Armer will take their young "Music for Minors" audiences aboard their two-piano margic carpet on a journey through time "From Bach to Billy the Kid" at 10 and 11 a.m. Saturday in San Rafael High School auditorium.

Beginning with two Bach Gavottes livened by commentary from the performers, their "trip" will include a four-hand arrangement of a Brahm's "Hungarian Dance" and excerpts from Debussy's "Festivals," Eugene Goosens' "Children's Suite" and Aaron Copland's "Billy the Kid."

Season and single tickets will be available at the door before each performance. Season tickets may be obtained by writing Music for Minors, 445 Woodland Drive, Kentfield.

The San Francisco Boys' Chorus with director Madi Bacon will conclude the Music for Minors season with their program "Around the World in Song," on Feb. 29.

Music for Minors is sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin.

Three Seized At Alleged Brothel

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An alleged brothel that catered to business executives and professional men by appointment only was raided yesterday and three women arrested, San Francisco police said.

The expensively furnished house had been in operation in an exclusive neighborhood since last summer, according to police.

Nine policemen, led by Deputy Chief Al Nelder, moved in on the alleged prostitution operation yesterday after a tip from an unidentified employee of the San Francisco Examiner. The newspaper identified the man as an "Examiner agent."

Four men found in the house were not arrested, police said, but told they will have to testify in court later.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Different Types of Pancreas Ails Give Varying Types Of Symptoms

VAN DELLEN

What are the symptoms of a diseased pancreas? This is a difficult question to answer because the pancreas has various functions and is subject to seveal ailments, including intections, tumors, and injuries.

The organ is located just below the stomach. Some of its cells manufacture insulin, and a shortage of this hormone leads to diabetes. Other cells produce enzymes that are secreted into the intestine to help digest such foods as fats. Symptoms vary according to the function that is disturbed. Indigestion occurs, for example, with a deficiency of enzymes. Diabetes ensues with lack of insulin, and the individual experiences excessive thirst, hunger, and urination.

ACUTE PANCREATITIS usually begins with intense abdominal distress, nausea, and vomiting. Pain, located in the upper abdomen, is constant and extends straight through to the back. The attack may be so severe, the victim goes into shock. The abdomen is tender to the touch and there is one chance in four of getting jaundice. A blood test (serum amylase) is helpful in making the diagnosis.

Chronic pancreatitus resembles the acute type except that pain is less excrutiating and is intermittent and fluctuating. Digestive disturbances and weight loss are common.

Chronic recurrent pancreatitis is a series of chronic bouts, separated by periods of comfort. Impairment of the function of the pancreas brings on pain and indigestion. Some persons so afflicated develop diarrhea and malnutrition. Others become addicted to the medication used to relieve discomfort.

Cancer of the pancreas often starts on the right side of the gland and there are few indications of its existence until the disease spreads to the body of the organ or into neighboring structures. Jaundice and loss of appetite and weight are part of the picture. Again, pain is the most frequent manifestation.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

GET RID OF IT

A. V. writes: Is it always wise to have the gall bladder removed after several attacks?

REPLY

Yes, for three chief reasons: 1. There is no need to continue to suffer or endanger your life. 2. The infection may spread from the gall bladder to the liver. 3. It is better to have necessary surgery in youth or middle age than in old age.

CONGESTION

D. H. writes: Would heavy drinking retard recovery from Bell's palsy?

REPLY

Yes, by increasing congestion of the affected nerve. This in turn might lessen the chance of recovery because irreparable damage to the nerve fibers occurs from prolonged pinching of the nerve.

STONES AND INFECTIONS

Mrs. R. S. writes: Can a long lasting kidney infection cause kidney stones?

REPLY

Yes, But—like the age old question involving the chicken and the egg—it is difficult to say which came first — the stone or infection. Many calculi form around clumps of bacteria or infected material, suggesting that infection existed first.

FEARS AND FALSE BELIEFS

D. R. writes: Is a phobia the same as a delusion?

REPLY

No. A phobia is any persistent or abnormal fear, whereas a delusion is a false belief that cannot be corrected by reasoning.

Today's Health Hint—Spare the back when shoveling snow.

Sausalito Pupils To Get TB Skin Tests

Tuberculin skin tests are to be given the 1,066 pupils at Sausalito's four elementary schools Monday in the first such tests in all grades of a school district in Marin.

Starting at 9 a.m., nine doctors and nine nurses, all volunteers and all Marin residents, will administer injection to the pupils. The intradermal test, in which disposable syringes and needles are used for each child, causes a little bubble on the forearm about the size of a mosquito bite. Tests are expected to be completed by about noon.

In addition to the four schools, tests will be given to pupils at the child care center in Marin City and to special education classes under county jurisdiction at Manzanita and Richardson Bay schools.

Kindergartners at Central and Manzanita schools, who normally attend afternoon sessions, will be asked to attend school Monday morning instead.

Dr. Stanley J. Wolfe, district trustee, has been responsible for organizing the program, which is sponsored by the Sausalito School District, Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. and Marin County health department.

Skin test results will be inspected Thursday by Nancy James, district school nurse, to determine if any students has been exposed to tuberculosis and has reacted. Reports, negative or positive, will be made to parents within one week.

If positive, said Miss James, the health department will be notified and will follow through with further investigation.

Chest X-rays are one means of detecting tuberculosis. The skin tests provide another way, especially valuable early in the course of the disease, said Miss James.

The testing in Sausalito schools will precede by exactly one month a district-wide test in Tamalpais High School District. Last year, skin tests were given to pupils in first and ninth grades in San Rafael schools.

Novato Votes To Buy House For Block

The Novato City Council Tuesday night approved purchase of the George D. Morrison house at 909 Sherman Avenue, completing city ownership of an entire block.

Price is $16,250 cash, with the city to pay the current year's taxes. It will lease the property back to Morrison for $50 per month for three years.

This gives the city the block bounded by Machin, De Long and Sherman avenues, and Blodgett Lane.

The city acquired the western half of this block when it took over the Novato Community House from the Novato Community Club. When it purchased the Presbyterian Church properties, it acquired the remainder of the block except for the Morrison house.

Morrison built the house in 1914 and 1915, he said.

Larkspur Firemen Plan Library Fund

Members of the Larkspur Assn. of Volunteer Firemen Inc. last night decided to set aside between $50 and $100 a year to set up a library which will be kept in the meeting room of the main firehouse.

Association president William Lellis said books and magazines would be purchased with the money.

Bolinas Meet Off

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees will meet at 8 P.M., next Wednesday at Bolinas School. There was no meeting last night because of some trustees were away for the holiday, reported Arthur E. Carpenter, clerk.

THE JOHNSON STYLE

What Is Our New First Lady Like?

(Last of a series)

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson broke one rose from her bouquet for a girl who waited a long time at an airport for a glimpse of her.

"Me, too," the First Lady confided to a worker in retraining school who admitted he was nervous at a presentation ceremony.

It's part of the emerging pattern of Mrs. Johnson as First Lady.

A calypso band, hootenanny, the strains of opera and American theater have been part of her White House entertainment.

Mrs. Johnson read draft after draft of her husband's State of the Union speech as it was being put together.

She urged daughter Lynda Bird, 19, to transfer from Texas to George Washington University and help out with White House hostess chores. Because she said she knew the value of college friendships, Mrs. Johnson invited Lynda's Texas roommate to come live at the White House, too.

While President Johnson fretted over the $4,600 White House electric bill, his wife fell in line with his economy projects. She made a point of flying coach fare at a saving of $5.30 on a round-trip to New York City.

In less than three months she has been in the White House, Mrs. Johnson has moved swiftly to set her own style.

Like the president, she has been wooing the press, stressing culture and compassion for the pockets of poverty in America and never missing an opportunity to make friends on the social circuit.

Mrs. Johnson is underplaying fashions, up-grading the arts, and has joined the president in opening up the White House as it hasn't been since the days of Harry S. Truman and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The popular refurbishing of the White House, done by Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her fine arts committee, was to be continued, the Johnson promised.

Mrs. Johnson, too, wants to keep the White House as "the best face of America," a spokesman for the First Lady said.

Here's a thumbnail look at the First Lady:

Partnership: Mrs. Johnson, busy backer-up of her husband, will take on more and more White House greeting chores, enlisting her daughters and Lynda's schoolmate, pretty Warrie Lynn Smith of San Antonio, Tex. She'll attend party fund-raising dinners, go along on presidential trips, keep trying to get the president to let up a little on long work schedules.

On her own: She'll spotlight people from all walks of life; continue once-a-month luncheons featuring women of achievement; make some key speeches, but not many, around the country.

Press: Mrs. Johnson has known many Washington reporters for years and has easy-going friendly way with them. She'll continue to be accessible, aides say, but doesn't plan any informal press conferences and will strictly limit interviews. With veteran newspaperwoman, Elizabeth Carpenter, a Texan, as her staff director-press secretary, much family news is made available.

Social: An active entertaining calendar continues at the White House. The Johnsons, warm and friendly and glad to shake hands, invited all the senators to informal dinners recently and now are in the midst of a series of six receptions for congressmen. They have brought back the receiving line the Kennedy eliminated in favor of just mingling. The Johnsons mingle, too, the president kisses old friends, and Mrs. Johnson, after 26 years in Washington, remembers many who come by for a handshake.

Privacy: The new First Lady, like many before her, would like at least some privacy. Camp David weekends provide this for the Johnsons as they did for other presidential families.

13 Students Off On Trip Through Mexico

The entire 13-member student body of the new experimental Valley School of Forest Farms has started its month-long field trip to Mexico.

The students, aged 10 through 13, are traveling south on the International American Highway to Guadalajara, east to Zacatecas and then back to the United States through Cuidad Juarez on the Texas border.

Dr. Monte Steadman is leading the caravan, accompanied by two members of the faculty and four parents.

Members of the group are Joan, Frances and Peter Greenfield and Debbie Howard of Woodacre; Mark Lang of Mill Valley; Chris d'Orgeix of Forest Knolls; Daniel and Paul Prince of Larkspur; Donna Quiett of Marin City; Taylor Ransone of San Francisco; Jay Smith of Fairfax, and Marcia and Roger Steadman of Corte Madera.

The youngsters will continue their formal studies on the journey along with learning about Mexico, part of the school's curriculum.

They studied Spanish three hours a week and reviewed Mexican history before their departure.

The trip is a part of the school's policy "to educate the children to be responsible world citizens."

Ford Divorced In Idaho Court

FAIRFIELD, Ida. (UPI)—Mrs. Henry Ford II ended her 23-year marriage to the board chairman of the Ford Motor Co. yesterday with a quiet, uncontested divorce.

The 44-year-old Detroit socialite, a Roman Catholic, snipped the bonds of matrimony in a 20-minute civil proceedings before Idaho Fourth District Judge Charles Scoggin. Ford was not present.

Grounds for the divorce were not immediately disclosed nor was any settlement that may have been made.

Sleepy Hollow Club Accepts Project

Plans for modernizing and enlarging the Sleepy Hollow clubhouse on Butterfield Road were accepted by directors of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. Tuesday night.

Contracts for the expansion project are expected to be signed later this week, Roland L. Hauck Jr., association president, said today.

TAYLOR PARK TROUBLED BY TRASH

The winter rains have washed a truckload of trash into Samuel P. Taylor State Park from illegal creek bottom dumping up stream, Park Supervisor Neil E. Power announced today.

Three park workers this week collected old shoes, pots and pans, car luggage racks, a baby carriage, part of an old stove and an ice box out of Paper Mill Creek just below Shafter Bridge at the east end of the park. Power said this all was from trash dumped into the creek by residents of San Geronimo Valley.

He said such dumping is an infraction of the state fish and game laws.

New Sister Cities Named

ASTI, Italy (AP)—This north Italian wine town of 60,000 and Delano, Calif., were named sister cities Tuesday in a ceremony at the town hall.

The mayor of Delano, Clifford Loader, was present.

Asti's Mayor Giovanni Giraudi and Mayor Loader promised strengthening of friendship and trade ties between their two communities.

Rain Below Average, But Water On Hand

Rainfall this season has been below average, but the Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin Water District both reported today plenty of water on hand.

The last rain in Marin County was Jan. 30, and the seasonal total to date is 16.06 inches, compared to a seasonal average of 23.99 inches and 31.08 inches last year at this time.

The California Department of Water Resources has forecast that some areas of the state will have to "squeeze the most use out of every drop."

But William R. Seeger, general manager and chief engineer of the Marin Municipal Water District, commented: "We'll have no problem."

Nicasio Lake "is spilling," he added, and Lagunitas Lake is full. Bon Tempe Lake is down slightly and Kent and Alpine lakes are down a few feet. "We have plenty of supply," he concluded.

"Our supply is normal. The reservoir is nearly full now," said General Manager Jerome Gilbert of the North Marin Water District. He noted the district has an agreement allowing it to draw on Russian River water if necessary.

White House Art Consultant Quits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson yesterday accepted the resignation of August Heckscher, special White House consultant on the arts, but said the White House will continue to be interested "in this important field."

Johnson recently named a four-man committee to review the relationship between government and the arts. The president said he hopes "very soon to announce future plans."
